

YOUNG ED BUCHHEIT TO GO TO LISBON JAIL

At the Conclusion of the Hearing Yesterday
Mayor Davidson Fixed Bail at $5,000.

THE REQUIRED BOND HAS NOT BEEN GIVEN

Evidence of Eye-Witnesses of the Assault Left No Doubt Whatever
of the Young Man's Guilt.

PRISONER OVERCOME BY HIS MOST UNFORTUNATE SITUATION

The hearing of Edward Buchheit, charged with killing John Drayer, was concluded before Mayor Davidson yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock. The mayor held the accused under $5,000 bail for court.

Upon being returned to his cell after hearing the testimony of the witnesses yesterday afternoon Edward Buchheit broke down completely and last night and today was very restless. He cried at intervals and seemed very much worked up over his unenviable plight. He is very reticent about talking, refusing almost absolutely to converse with any one but his attorney and relatives.

John Buchheit, his father, was expected to arrive in the city on the noon train from Akron to go on his son's bond but failed to do so and as a result the mayor ordered that the prisoner be taken to the county jail at Lisbon tomorrow morning.

Mary Milliron will also be taken over and confined in the jail, she not being able to furnish $100 for her appearance in court as a witness.

A special grand jury will be impaneled next week to take action on the case and several others which have materialized since the opening of the present term of court. Cases being set for trial on every day of next week it is very probable that this case will be assigned for the week commencing July 2.

The testimony of John McBane, briefly summarized yesterday, was as follows:

"I have lived here for 32 years, and am a teamster. I have known Buchheit for many years, but did not know Drayer. I was on Second street with Buchheit on that Saturday evening, and we intended to go to the creek. There were two crowds to go. Buchheit asked me where he could get a wagon to make the trip. He started ahead of me down Second street, and I saw Buchheit stop and talk to two young ladies. Two men came along and one asked Buchheit if the girls showed him anything to which Buchheit replied: 'What has that got to do with the case?'"

"I heard one blow struck. The man that fell to the ground was a stranger to me. I didn't know whether the sound was that of a man striking another or that of a man's head striking the ground. I went to Drayer, who was a stranger to me and I said: 'Get up partner,' and then Buchheit, who had started across the street, came back and he also told him to get up. It seemed to me that Drayer was stunned. All I saw there were Drayer and his partner and Buchheit."

The witness was not cross-examined. Thomas Boyd, the next witness, said he had lived here for 12 years. He said he knew Buchheit but not very well. He was on Second street with John Drayer and two girls, and was standing in the Second street drug store door. "We stood there a while and the girls left us first. Drayer then followed the girls and I was the last. Two other men came along and were talking to the girls when Drayer caught up to them. I heard something said about owing some one money, and by the time I reached the corner I saw Drayer lying on the pavement. The men then came back and I ran away as I thought they were coming after me. I saw no blows struck however."

"I went to see Drayer on the next Sunday evening. Mary Milliron and Mary Hutton were with us on that Saturday evening."

The only thing of interest brought out in Boyd's cross-examination was the following statement: "I picked up a brick and did not get more than one step when I saw the man coming at me. I dropped the brick and ran down Second street. I saw nothing more of the parties until the next day."

Mary Milliron, who witnessed the assault, testified: "I live in Ohioville, Pa. I am working at Hammondsville,

I knew John Drayer some weeks. I met him at Schlegel's store for the first time. I was with Drayer a while on the night of June 7. I met him that night near Bagley's on Second street. Mary Hutton and I were standing on Washington street talking to two tall fellows. Drayer and another man came up. Drayer said: 'Do they owe you anything?' Then some one hit

A narrow escape from drowning happened opposite the C. & P. shops in Wellsville this morning. Several boys had a log raft from which they were diving. Perry Anderson, aged 12, son of W. P. Anderson, of Steubenville street, who was not a very good swimmer, went down and was sinking for the last time when pulled out of the water by an older boy called "Stuffy" Johnson and landed on the shore.

Young Anderson was unconscious, but was rolled on the ground and respiration induced. He was taken to the home of his parents on Steubenville street and will recover.

Staples, Minn., June 20.—(Special)—At an early hour this morning two passenger trains on the Northern Pacific road collided near this place, instantly killing six trainmen and one passenger. It is said that at least 10 others were seriously injured. The cause of the collision cannot be learned at this time.

The Number of Candidates for Congress Still Dimin-

Columbus, June 20.—(Special)—The action of Mahoning county in uniting on Attorney James B. Kennedy, of Youngstown, as the county's candidate for congress, eliminates from the race for the nomination a candidate from each of the other counties of the district. These candidates are Charles S. Speaker, of Lisbon, ex-prosecutor of Columbiana, and Charles C. Baker, of Alliance, who was a candidate for the congressional nomination against Hon. Robert W. Taylor two years ago.

Accordingly to accredited statements published in the newspapers of the Eighteenth district, each gentleman declared that he would not be a candidate for congress in the event that Mahoning county "got together" on one man.

BROKE THE LOCK AND ESCAPED

Connelly. Alleged Pickpocket,
Walked Out of the Jail
at Chester.

PERSUADED BY A PISTOL

He Soon Surrendered and Was Taken
Back—Detectives Say He Is One
of the Slickest Thieves in the Country.

The notorious pickpocket who was arrested at Chester on Wednesday evening by Railroad Detective Jester on one of the excursion trains of the Homestead merchants picnic, and who gave his name as Thomas Connelly, escaped from the Chester jail yesterday afternoon at about 3 o'clock, using a wrench to break the jail cage lock.

James Hadley, an employee of the Chester tin mill, discovered the escape. He was seated on the town hall steps when Connelly left the building by the side window. As soon as he learned that the man had gone he started on the hunt for an officer. He soon met Hassey. The officers started in the direction taken by the escaped prisoner, and just before arriving within sight of the river they discovered him. At that time he was endeavoring to conceal himself in the tall weeds near the Chester approach of the Ohio river bridge. A crowd followed the police.

Connelly determined to run for the river but refrained from doing so upon seeing Officer Elliott's big six shooter staring him in the face and hearing the officer say, "Hold up your hands." As soon as his hands went up Policeman Hassey advanced and handcuffed him. Connelly was escorted to the town lock-up followed by a large crowd.

It is believed by the officers that a confederate in some manner gained entrance to the jail and handed him the wrench with which the escape was made. A suspicious character has been seen in the neighborhood of the building several times since the pickpocket was arrested.

The prisoner said he had poked the wrench within reach with the aid of a broom which he was able to reach from his cell. But the officers say there was no broom within his reach and he could not have reached the wrench even with this assistance.

Connelly was evidently in no great hurry to get away from the jail, for as soon as got out of his cell he stopped to put on all of his clothes, even to his necktie, and then climbed through the window at the side of the building and thence went across the fields towards the river.

Detective J. E. Reeves, of the railroad, who was in Chester last evening stated that he had had trouble with the same man once before several years ago in Buffalo and arrested him at that time on a similar charge. The prisoner is not a new one at the business, it is said, and is alleged to be one of the slickest men of his craft in the country. It is also said that he is wanted by the officials of several towns and that the authorities of no less than three states have been after him for some time.

Detective Jester stated yesterday that he had been shadowing the man all day Wednesday and was finally rewarded by catching him in the act of stealing a woman's pocket book.

Connelly was taken to New Cumberland this morning by Railroad Detective William Johnston, where he will be given a hearing today before Judge Hervey.

To Give a Dance.

Committees from the police and fire departments met last evening and decided to give a dance at Rock Springs park on the evening of June 30. It will be for the benefit of the departments and will undoubtedly be a great success.

TOO MUCH MEDICINE NEARLY CAUSED DEATH

Mrs. Mary McCullough, living in Drury lane, between Jackson and Market streets, came dangerously near ending her earthly existence yesterday afternoon, when she took a dose of medicine for the purpose of alleviating pain due to an attack of the cramps.

Having suffered intensely throughout the day and not being able to soothe the pain with moderate doses of lightning hot drops and paregoric, she, in a fit of exasperation, seized a

SALVATION ARMY SOON TO BUILD

Success of Booth Tucker Meeting
Gives Building Project
a Big Boom.

THE SITE TO BE BOUGHT

And Preparations Made for Early
Erection of the Army Home.
Crowds Greeted the Commander
And Over $700 Was Raised.

As a result of the Booth-Tucker meeting last evening, which was successful beyond expectation, the Salvation Army will at once take steps looking toward the erection of its proposed new building. The Warner property on Third street, on which the Army has had an option for $4,000 for some time, will be the site and the deal for it will be closed at once.

Salvation Army finances are looking up. With the $700, raised at last night's meeting, added to present funds, there will be only about $1,300 to be raised to complete the purchase of the lot. The 10-room dwelling now on the lot will be moved back, remodeled and will probably rent for $25 per month. The rent for the present barracks is $14 a month. There will thus be $39 a month saved, enough to more than meet the interest on the proposed new building until it is fully paid for.

The plans for the new home for the army are in the hands of Architect A. W. Scott and will soon be ready. The army has greatly prospered under the administration of Adjutant Snyder for the past six months. The interest aroused last evening will no doubt result in further stimulus. The officers are greatly encouraged and will push the building project and their work.

Booth Tucker, commander of the Salvation Army of the United States, was greeted at the opera house last evening by a very large audience, all anxious to see the man who had given up an exalted position in the India courts to follow the life he felt that God had laid out for him.

The personality of this man, so famous during his service in the United States, is most pleasing. He possesses a kindly bearing, self-assured air, soothing and convincing speech and is undoubtedly a man of a strong mind and conscience.

Surrounding Commander Tucker on the stage were the members of the local corps, Rev. Dr. Clark Crawford, M. C. Wright, Colonel R. E. Holz, of Cleveland, Staff Captain White, of Pittsburg, and Capt. Strobel, of Cleveland. Each took part in the service and the audience felt as if it were in the midst of a great camp meeting.

Before going to the opera house the army, in command of Adjutant Snyder, marched through the streets of the city from the headquarters to the Diamond. Here a short song and prayer service was held and Commander Tucker was introduced to the immense crowd that collected. He made a short address, saying how much pleasure it gave him to be among East Liverpool people, since in this city one of the veteran corps of the United States is prospering and making strides equalled only by cities very much larger in population.

With music by the band and singing by the audience the meeting was opened with much enthusiasm. M. C. Wright followed with prayer and then the speaker of the evening was introduced and welcomed in a cordial manner by Rev. Dr. Crawford. Commander Tucker replied to the greeting in a fervent manner and continued his address in part as follows:

"Six years ago when I was made commander of the army of the United States we had a very discouraging outlook before us. What a change has taken place since then! We have been growing steadily and are now one of the strongest armies in the world. When I entered the field we had but

2,000 officers in America; now we have 3,000. We had 600 meetings a year, now we have 90,000. We had only $20,000 to run the expenses of the army and we thought we were doing well. Now we have at our command $300,000 annually.

"The enrollment of the army has greatly increased, and I have every reason to believe that we will continue growing in this good work as the years go by. We furnish help for the needy in numerous different ways. We run against some very peculiar and rather comical circumstances in our travels among the lowly. Recently one of our officers in Chicago met a man that was almost down in the street, due to intoxication. The officer approached him and said: 'What is your name?' 'I don't believe I know,' he replied. 'Well, where have you been?' 'I don't know,' he said. 'It may have been a wedding or it may have been a funeral, but what ever it was, I must say that it was a complete success.'"

"The wall of the army is like the Irishman's wall. It is built so broad at the top that if it were to fall over it would be higher than it was when standing erect. The Salvation Army problem is a mighty one. Our modern

IS THE CONTEST BETWEEN THE WETS AND THE DRYS.

Lisbon Votes Monday on the Question
of Abolishing the Saloons.

Lisbon, June 20.—(Special)—Lisbon will vote on Monday on the saloon question. As the time draws near the fight grows warmer, and both sides are making every effort to succeed, but neither is at all confident. The vote will probably be very close. Well attended anti-saloon meetings are being held every evening this week.

These meetings are generally held in the public square by eloquent speakers, very often by officers of the anti-saloon league. Thomas H. Clark, a prominent lawyer of Columbus, delivered one of the best last night to a large audience at the opera house. The saloon faction have Rev. Mr. Brown, colored, who claims to be an itinerant evangelist, to speak in their behalf. He prays first and then contradicts what the temperance men say afterwards. Both sides are making a man to man canvass and the saloon people are reported using money freely. Rumor says that they have a contribution of $14,000 from the Ohio Liquor league for use in the campaign. It is noticeable that there has been more drunkenness during the last week than at almost any other time. The meetings are often interrupted by drunken men and they are in evidence on the streets at all times.

GRANTED A DIVORCE

Henry Allison Secures Legal Separation From an Erring
Wife.

Lisbon, June 20.—(Special)—Henry Allison, of Lisbon, has been granted a divorce from Mary J. Allison, of East Liverpool, on the grounds of unfaithfulness. They were married in 1887 and have four children, of whom he was given the custody. The testimony was of a highly sensational character. Since leaving her husband three years ago Mrs. Allison seems to have played the part of an abandoned woman. She lived with Edward Cole for about five weeks at New Brighton, Pa. She also had associated with other men in East Liverpool.

Licensed to Wed.

Lisbon, June 20.—(Special)—Marriage licenses have been granted as follows:

Alfred Howard and Louisa Kforie, both of Salem.

John B. Richards, of West Virginia, and Belle Nagle, of Wellsville.

O. R. Ruse, of Pittsburg, and Lillian Custer, of East Palestine, secured a license and were married here by Rev. George Fowler.

Judgment on a Note.

Lisbon, June 20.—(Special)—John W. Russell, of Wellsville, has taken judgment in common pleas court against Lucian Mortopietro for $619.25 due on a note. He foreclosed a mortgage on lot 2 in Lucy Russell's addition to Wellsville.

ELOQUENT CENTENNIAL SERMON

Church History By the Pastor and

of the Memorable Day.

Every seat in the building occupied, additional seating room outside the building filled and old friends greeting each other as only old friends know how.

Such was the picture that was presented at the centennial anniversary services at Long's Run Presbyterian church at Calcutta yesterday morning and afternoon. The day was one that will be long remembered by those who attended. From 1,200 to 1,500 visited the old church during the day and evening. From early morning until late in the afternoon people were going and coming at the church and church yard.

There were people present from miles around. Lisbon and East Liverpool were well represented. The scenes about the church were most pleasant. Here and there were groups of people talking about the church, of its struggles in its earlier days, of those who have died, of those living, and those who have been a help to the church ever since it was organized. It was a day of rejoicing. Never before were so many wagons, buggies and other vehicles and horses seen about the church yard, and in the immediate vicinity as yesterday.

The anniversary services commenced in the church at 10:30 a. m. So many persons were present that not one-half could be accommodated in the little auditorium.

The pulpit was tastefully decorated with flowers, of such beauty as is rarely known except in the country districts. The large chandelier in the center of the church was superbly decorated with ferns. After a short devotional service, the centennial sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. William Dickson, of Canfield, O., who was pastor of the church from 1861 to 1865. In part Dr. Dickson said after taking a text from II. Samuel 6:1-9:

"For the stone shall cry out of the wall and the beam out of the timber shall answer it. The text is in part obscure, and in part grandly sublime. It is also delightfully practical. Although the fig tree shall not blossom, neither shall fruit be in the vines."

"Let us give and hear earnest attention to the voice of the stones and the beams. Consider their testimony in human conduct. We will, in thought, set out on a tour of investigation and inquire, and will visit the Palace of the Tyrant. 'Come, we will enter one of these.' It was a splendid specimen of kingly wealth and magnificence nearly 3,000 years ago. It was built by Nebuchadnezzar. This was in Babylon. Now it is ashes and ruins. So it is all through life. TOBACCO ASSAILED.

Pronouncement to the Milwaukee Episcopal Diocese Clergymen.

BISHOP URGES THEY ABSTAIN.

Nicholson Maintains There is Not Trace of Spiritual Help or Physical Gain From Its Use and Untold Evils Have Resulted.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 20.—Bishop Nicholson, of the Milwaukee Episcopal diocese, has created a mild sensation among the priests and laity of the diocese by issuing a sort of a pronouncement against the use of tobacco. The pronouncement is submitted as an object lesson, and while the bishop commends it to the good judgment of the priests, without decreeing against the use of tobacco in so many words, nevertheless it has created quite a considerable stir.

The bishop maintains that there is not one trace of spiritual help or physical gain from the use of tobacco, but untold evils have resulted from its use.

The extent to which the bishop's abhorrence toward tobacco goes is evidenced by the statement that if it is true that Sir Walter Raleigh introduced tobacco into England, 'tis a pity that the ship that carried him did not sink in the ocean.

OPPOSE A STRIKE.

ATTITUDE OF SOME OF WESTERN MINERS.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 20.—The arrival of President W. R. Russell and Secretary-Treasurer W. D. Ryan, of the Illinois miners' organization, for a conference with National President Mitchell was the only event of any importance around strike headquarters yesterday. The two Illinois leaders arrived at 3 o'clock and immediately went into conference with their chief, which lasted two hours. President Mitchell, after the meeting, said they came to see him for the purpose of "discussing western mining matters."

Not Unanimous For Strike.

There is not the slightest doubt that the Illinois officials brought information to Mr. Mitchell which will be of use to him in connection with the Indianapolis meeting. Information has reached here through different sources that the soft coal miners in the west are not unanimous for a general strike, and some of them, it is said, are against a partial suspension. Those men who oppose a strike are willing to give financial aid to the anthracite strikers, but some of the leaders are not ready to accept this sort of aid. In the spring of 1900, when a strike levy of 25 cents a month for each member of the United Mine Workers of America was made, there were only three state organizations that responded in full. They were Iowa, Illinois and Indiana. There is now a strike tax of 10 cents a month for each member in force, but as far as can be learned this is not being paid in full by all the districts in the country. For this reason the leaders would rather have the bituminous miners either strike or partially suspend operations. President Mitchell has been in close communication with the leaders of the various districts, and whatever plan they decide upon will no doubt be adopted by the convention. No radical action such as a total suspension of work by the entire membership of the organization is looked for.

President Mitchell received information yesterday from West Virginia which he said indicates that the strike there is progressing most favorably. He said more men are now out in that territory than at any other time since the strike in the Virginias began. Large gains have been made, he said, along the line of the Norfolk and Western railroad.

Iowa Officials Against Strike. Des Moines, Ia., June 20.—President J. P. Reese, of the Iowa district of United Mine Workers, is opposed to a strike in this state, and predicts that none will take place. Other union officers are said to hold similar views. The miners, who number 15,000, are under contract with the operators for one year from April 1 last. The field is thoroughly organized.

Saginaw, Mich., June 20.—As President M. P. Williams signed the call for the convention with the approval of the executive board, there is little doubt that Michigan will vote in the national gathering for a general strike. Industries in this region already are feeling the effect of the shortage of coal. Twenty-five hundred miners have been on strike for several months.

President of Arkansas University. Little Rock, Ark., June 20.—The board of trustees of the University of Arkansas have elected Harrison Randolph, of Virginia, president of that institution, vice Dr. John I. Buchanan, resigned.

A good deal has been written about
the helpfulness of the electric railroads in taking the country to the city.

Certainly the urban lines which extend
into rural districts help to stimulate travel and local trade for the city. Now
it develops that the trolley road is taking the city to the country. In New England, where long trolley roads are
very common, summer vacationists
find it enjoyable to journey to mountain and seashore resorts by the electric cars. In many instances the end of the road is so near the fishing or hunting districts that the latter are as accessible as if the pleasure seekers
had traveled by the steam railroads.

The trolley is fast destroying rural isolation, but it is a mighty factor in increasing the facilities for business
and pleasure of all sorts and a benefit
to all sorts of people.

The stream of graduates pouring
from the doors of the four hundred colleges and universities in this country
during this month reaches such unusual proportions that it may well
challenge more than passing attention
from the public. If we may judge of the size of many of these classes the popular belief that "knowledge is power" and that college education is
of great value in equipping young men
and young women for the obligations
of intelligent citizenship and for the mastering of some chosen calling has suffered no declension.

prophecies have never yet come true.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Nancy Hickman.

Mrs. Nancy Hickman, aged 72 years,
one of the oldest members of the Long's Run Presbyterian church, died last evening at 10:30 o'clock at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. T.
Smith, of Calcutta road. She had been ill since early in April, and death was due to old age. The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Smith residence, the
services being in charge of Rev. P. W.
Snyder, of Calcutta, and Rev. J. N.
Swan, of this city.

Mrs. Hickman was well known
through this part of Columbiana
county, having been born on a farm
that at present adjoins the old Hickman homestead at Calcutta. Her husband, A. R. Hickman, died about six years ago. She is survived by the following children: V. Q. Hickman, of
Pittsburg; Mrs. J. M. Swan, of Canton,
China; Mrs. J. T. Smith and J. C.
Hickman, of this city; E. N. Hickman,
of Calcutta, and Mrs. J. A. McIntosh,
of Cannon's Mill.

Mrs. Myrtle Litton.

Mrs. Myrtle Litton, aged 22, wife of Irwin Litton, died at their home, Eighteenth and Front streets, Wellsville,
yesterday. She had been ill only a few days, and her husband has not recovered from a severe attack of typhoid fever. The young couple came
to Wellsville from Jackson county, W.
Va., three months ago. She leaves a six-months-old babe. Her remains will be shipped this evening by boat to Jackson county.

ning. She was a prominent member of the Baptist church and will be buried tomorrow.

THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE.

Drayer and knocked him down.

"I would know the fellow if I should see him. I believe that is he sitting
there by you."

"Mary and I walked down the street
and the two tall fellows came up. I saw Buchheit strike a blow. It was on Washington street. I tried to get John to speak to me. Two men took him to the fish market. I saw two blows struck. I did not see Buchheit
kick him. The two tall fellows ran."

"Drayer did not attempt to strike
the tall fellows. He did not lie there very long. He called me Maggie and asked me to take him home. I went with him to the fish market, and then went to Mary Hutton's after he was put to bed. Drayer did not know me Sunday afternoon. He complained of his head hurting back of his ear. The blows Buchheit struck landed on his eyes. I waited till his eyes got better then I went to Hammondsville. I only saw one man strike John."

"John said he did not know who struck him. I had seen Buchheit lots of times. I could not be mistaken in
the man and am positive that no other
man struck any blows."

Cross-examined Miss Milliron said:

"Tom, John and Mary and I were together. Mary and I started out alone.
The tall fellows were ahead of us.
They stopped and talked to us. John
and Tom were behind us. I turned around and came back before going
far. The conversation took place east of Washington street. When I got back
the tall men were gone. The tall one struck the first blow. He struck with his left hand first, then with his right
and blackened his eyes. I was looking when the blows were struck. The tall fellows ran after the blows were struck. Tom ran over to the restaurant."

"I saw Boyd pick up a brick, but he did not throw it. He meant to throw it, but did not. He told me he intended to throw it. The man hit Drayer
with his fists. He had an umbrella in one hand. It was raised all the time.
Drayer was lying on the ground when I got to him. I raised him up. Drayer was my fellow. He went with me a good while."

Mary Hutton testified: "I live on Market street, East Liverpool. I knew Drayer only two weeks. On June 7 I was with Mary Milliron standing in front of a drug store on Second street.
Tom met Drayer with us at the corner
of Union and Second streets. We walked down to Second and Washington.

Two tall fellows were behind us and Tom and John behind them. John said
to those two men: "Do those girls owe
you anything?" Then one of the tall fellows knocked him down. I saw no blows struck. I went to Second and Market. Mary went where John lay.
There were two tall fellows and a heavy set man. I would not know any of them. I did not see Tom run."

Dennis Linger's testimony was as follows: "I live at the corner of Second and Washington streets. On the night of June 7 I was at the corner about 12 o'clock. I saw a man hit another one twice on Washington street.
I wasn't close enough to see to know
him. I saw a man bent over another
one. That attracted my attention. He fell after the second blow. I did not see him get kicked. The man lay
there after being hit. He was sitting down when hit first. One said: 'Tell
him to get up.'"

"I walked over to the man. He was lying then with face down. I saw blood
on his mouth and breast. I don't know who took him away. I saw a girl
come to him and commence crying."

On cross-examination Linger said:

"The man hit Drayer one very hard lick. When the blow was struck it sounded as if he struck with his fist."

Dr. Brindley told of the post mortem. It revealed a depressed fracture of the skull. There was an artery severed. "I found a clot of blood and two fractures. I discovered no bruises
on his body. Either bruise would have caused the death of the man." The doctor showed a piece of the skull.

Any direct blow would have caused
that. The death was caused by a blow
inflicted on the head.

Dr. Taylor's testimony was given in an interview published in the News Review yesterday. He said that death
could have been the result of the skull
coming in contact with the pavement.
The three bones could have been frac-
tured by one blow, but that was hardly probable.

At the conclusion of this evidence
Mayor Davidson said: "There is no
doubt in my mind that the assault
caused the man's death. I therefore feel it my duty to hold the prisoner for
the common pleas court, fixing his bond at $5,000."

Buchheit was then led back to his cell.

WELLSVILLE

DON'T CROWD, GENTLEMEN

How Mr. Swearingen's Parrot Managed a Crowd of Noisy Birds.

Daniel Swearingen owns a beautiful green parrot that is said to be the largest of the many parrots in town. It is docile and kind and has been given many privileges. Finally it grew despondent and took up its abode in the hills north of Wellsville.

A number of men located "Jack" in a tall tree near town. The parrot was obtained by Mr. Swearingen of a ticket seller at a circus and is a good talker. The men found it surrounded by a bevy of robins, swallows and crows. Jack was making his antagonists a great speech and was saying: "Now don't crowd up, gentlemen. One at a time and you'll all be accommodated. There are tickets for all of you."

When a crow gave him a savage peck the parrot said: "Get away, you black devil; let the other people come up and be served."

Just then the parrot caught the crow by the neck and gave him a wrench that sent him to the ground.

A futile endeavor was made to capture the bird.

NEW U. P. CHURCH

Wellsville Not Likely to See the Project Carried Out This Year.

The building of a new United Presbyterian church in Wellsville this year is a matter that remains in embryo.

At the meeting next Wednesday evening the trustees will recommend that meetings be held in the old church for another year, as they do not believe that they can dispose of the building and lot advantageously at the present time. They think that the property is worth $10,000 and wish to make a fair bargain.

The trustees want full permission of the congregation to purchase a new lot and develop the plans for the new church. It will cost heavily to repair the old church. It would take 200 to remove the tottering steeple. Lots can be purchased reasonably and the trustees believe in planning for a fine new church next year and want authority to act.

TROUBLE OVER A SEWER

Lisbon Street Residents Say It Is Expensive to Make Connections.

Mrs. Mary Gallagher, of Lisbon street, appeared before a justice of the peace last evening and complained that Contractor Harrison Rinehart insisted on leading a pipe to conduct surface water into a drain from Mrs. Gallagher's property. She said that she had constructed the drain at her own expense and did not wish it to be filled up, as would happen if she permitted its use as a surface drain. She said that the contractor threatened to use the drain without her consent and she wished to protect her property.

The main sewer on Lisbon street is 35 feet from the surface and it is very expensive for the people to connect with it on account of the depth. Lisbon street residents think that a shallow sewer should be constructed. The ordinance for paving that street, they say, was passed without any regard to the wishes or consent of the property owners.

Home After Wandering.

Suing His Brother.

Suit has been brought by Clarence Hamilton against his brother, Morgan Hamilton. Both live in Congo, Clarence Hamilton declares that he was a partner in an oil well and leases in West Virginia, while the defendant insists that he merely hired Clarence to look after the wells. He is unwilling to share the profits. The case will be heard in New Cumberland soon.

Will Vote a Vacation.

Rev. C. E. Clark, M. E. pastor, now in the Adirondacks, reports his wife's health much improved by the mountain air and hopes for a permanent cure. A vacation will be voted to enable the pastor and his wife to stay as long as her health may require.

Arrested in a Box Car.

Detectives Moore and Evans arrested two strangers in a box car Thursday. It was Evans' first arrest. He has been recently given a job at the C. & P. and is stationed in the lower yards.

Nail Through His Foot.

Frank Wingell, employed at the C. & P. repair shops, ran a nail entirely through his left foot at the shops yesterday evening. There are fears of blood poison.

A Quiet Wedding.

A very quiet wedding occurred in the office of Justice A. G. MacKenzie last evening. Frank Rosenberger and Miss Linnie A. McCollough were wedded and will reside in Wellsville.

ANOTHER OFFICER

ADDED TO CHESTER POLICE FORCE BY ACT OF COUNCIL.

Ex-Marshal of Irondale the Man. Opening of Third Street—No Action on Paving.

Chester has another policeman. He is John John Elliott. He was chosen by council last night and began work today. He is to be on duty from 2 p. m. to 2 a. m. The appointment is considered a good one. Elliott was formerly marshal of Irondale.

Councilman Johnston, of the street committee, reported that numerous complaints had been made of the condition of Third street from California avenue to Virginia avenue. Its condition was bad and he suggested that Third street be opened to the river front and at the two intersections a sufficient fill be made so that the present drainage difficulty could be overcome.

After some discussion Mr. Johnston moved that the city engineer be instructed to furnish a grade continuing Third street to the river. The motion was carried.

No action could be taken on the paving ordinance, as City Solicitor Oliver Marshall was not present and no ordinance had been prepared. It will be acted upon at the next meeting.

Councilman Riley's motion, that the engineer be instructed to establish a grade on Indiana avenue between First and Second streets, as several people wished to build there, was carried.

SALVATION ARMY

civilization is confronted with four great aids. They are religion, home, virtue and work. For all these we must fight. One of the greatest helps toward the American people conquering in all lies in the fact that they are not afraid to acknowledge the greatness and goodness of God at all times. Our president never forgets to attach the name of God to his official messages and thereby evidences the respect of the nation as a whole for the Supreme Being.

For fully two hours the speaker held the audience to the closest attention and described the work of the army in all its phases. He dwelt chiefly on the farm colony scheme and explained in a convincing manner the good that is being derived from it.

At the conclusion of his most interesting talk a collection was taken from the audience to help in the erection of the new edifice to be built in this city by the army. Over $700 was subscribed and this, with what Adjutant Snyder has already raised, makes the total over $2,000.

YATES--GEORGE

A HANDSOME WEDDING AT A THIRD STREET HOME.

Impressive Ceremony Performed By Rev. Chas. G. Jordan Yesterday Noon.

The wedding of John N. George and Miss Carrie Yates, which took place at the bride's home on Third street yesterday, in the presence of relatives and friends, was a very fine affair. The house was prettily decorated in palms and pink roses, and in one corner of the parlor was arranged an artistic bower of tropical plants and vines.

Promptly at 12 o'clock, to the music of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Elizabeth Crawford, the wedding party appeared, preceded by Rev. C. G. Jordan, who performed the ceremony, using the Episcopal ring service. Little Miss Marion George, a sister of the groom, acted as flower girl while her brother, Master Allen George, acted as ring bearer. The flower girl's dress was of Persian lawn trimmed with valenciennes lace and ribbon. She carried a basket of pink roses. Master George wore a white suit and carried the wedding ring upon a silver tray.

Following these two little people were the bride and groom unattended. In the bower at the end of the room the ceremony was performed.

The bride's gown was a pretty creation of white chiffon mulle en traine, trimmed with white satin ribbon. She carried a handsome bouquet of La France roses.

A delightful wedding breakfast was served. As the guests entered the dining room the bride presented each lady with a rose from her bouquet. The dining room was prettily decorated.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful presents, among those to the bride being a handsome diamond brooch set with pearls, a gift from the groom.

The bride is well known to a large circle of friends, having been a stenographer in the Laughlin No. 2 pottery, while the groom is a popular civil engineer of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. George left last evening for Cleveland, Buffalo and Niagara Falls for two weeks. They expect to occupy their new home on Thompson hill early in July.

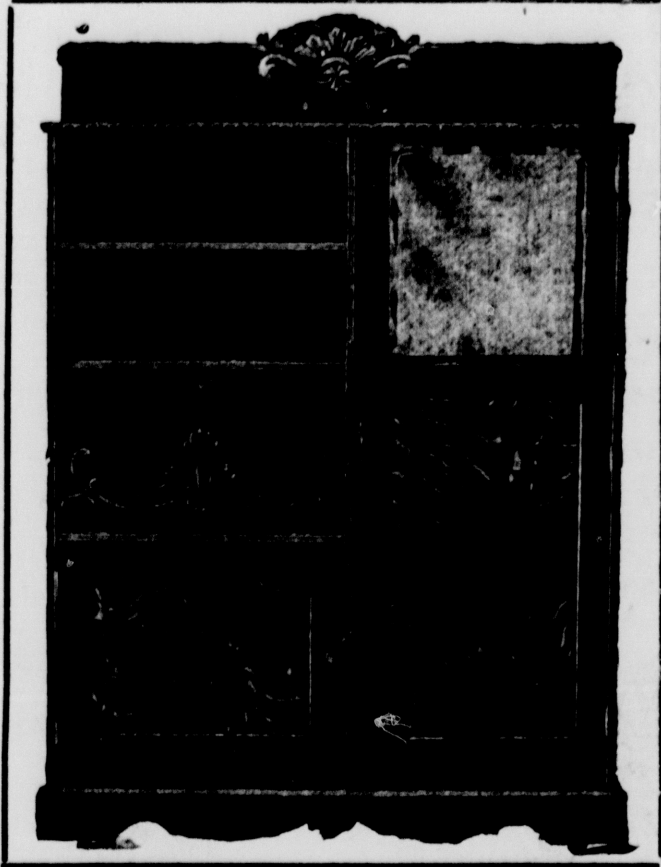

COLLEGE SENSATION

Mt. Union Faculty Withholds Leetonia Boy's Diploma for Printing Caricature.

Alliance, June 20.—The commencement exercises of Mount Union College closed yesterday in a whirl of sensations. When President A. B. Riker announced the degress the name of Vernon C. Snyder, of Leetonia was omitted. Snyder was editor of the Union, the college annual. At a meeting of the faculty it was decided to withhold young Snyder's diploma, because, it is charged, he insisted on printing a burlesque on one of the college professors. The picture represented the professor with his arm around one of the girl students. Snyder threatens to appeal to the courts.

Chronic Diarrhoea.

This disease is generally regarded as incurable, mainly for the reason that the remedies usually employed are ineffectual. That it can be cured, however, has been fully proven in many cases. The following tells of one of them: Mr. T. W. Greathouse, of Prattsburgh, Ga., says: "I had been suffering from chronic diarrhoea for seven years. Last year I began taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and it has entirely cured me. I had spent lots of money for doctors' medicine in the run of of the seven years. If it had not been for this remedy I would have been dead now, and I feel that I can never say too much in its favor or recommend it too highly." Sold by Alvin H. Bulger, Druggist.

At the Conclusion of the Hearing Yesterday
Mayor Davidson Fixed Bail at $5,000.

of the Young Man's Guilt.

The hearing of Edward Buchheit, charged with killing John Drayer, was concluded before Mayor Davidson yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock. The mayor held the accused under $5,000 bail for court.

Upon being returned to his cell after hearing the testimony of the witnesses yesterday afternoon Edward Buchheit browed down completely and last night and today was very restless. He cried at intervals and seemed very much worked up over his unenviable plight. He is very reticent about talking, refusing almost absolutely to converse with any one but his attorney and relatives.

John Buchheit, his father, was expected to arrive in the city on the noon train from Akron to go on his son's bond but failed to do so and as a result the mayor ordered that the prisoner be taken to the county jail at Lisbon tomorrow morning.

Mary Milliron will also be taken over and confined in the jail, she not being able to furnish $100 for her appearance in court as a witness.

A special grand jury will be impaneled next week to take action on the case and several others which have materialized since the opening of the present term of court. Cases being set for trial on every day of next week it is very probable that this case will be assigned for the week commencing July 2.

The testimony of John McBane, briefly summarized yesterday, was as follows:

"I have lived here for 32 years, and am a teamster. I have known Buchheit for many years, but did not know Drayer. I was on Second street with Buchheit on that Saturday evening, and we intended to go to the creek. There were two crowds to go. Buchheit asked me where he could get a wagon to make the trip. He started ahead of me down Second street, and I saw Buchheit stop and talk to two young ladies. Two men came along and one asked Buchheit if the girls showed him anything to which Buchheit replied: 'What has that got to do with the case?'

"I heard one blow struck. The man that fell to the ground was a stranger to me. I didn't know whether the sound was that of a man striking another or that of a man's head striking the ground. I went to Drayer, who was a stranger to me and I said: 'Get up partner,' and then Buchheit, who had started across the street, came back and he also told him to get up. It seemed to me that Drayer was stunned. All I saw there were Drayer and his partner and Buchheit."

The witness was not cross-examined. Thomas Boyd, the next witness, said he had lived here for 12 years. He said he knew Buchheit but not very well. He was on Second street with John Drayer and two girls, and was standing in the Second street drug store door. "We stood there a while and the girls left us first. Drayer then followed the girls and I was the last. Two other men came along and were talking to the girls when Drayer caught up to them. I heard something said about owing some money, and by the time I reached the corner I saw Drayer lying on the pavement. The men then came back and I ran away as I thought they were coming after me. I saw no blows struck however. "I went to see Drayer on the next Sunday evening. Mary Milliron and Mary Hutton were with us on that Saturday evening."

The only thing of interest brought out in Boyd's cross-examination was the following statement: "I picked up a brick and did not get more than one step when I saw the man coming at me. I dropped the brick and ran down Second street. I saw nothing more of the parties until the next day."

Mary Milliron, who witnessed the assault, testified: "I live in Ohlerville, Pa. I am working at Hammondsville.

I knew John Drayer some weeks. I met him at Schlegel's store for the first time. I was with Drayer a while on the night of June 7. I met him that night near Bagley's on Second street. Mary Hutton and I were standing on Washington street talking to two tall fellows. Drayer and another man came up. Drayer said: 'Do they owe you anything?' Then some one hit him. Accordingly to accredited statements published in the newspapers of the Eighteenth district, each gentleman declared that he would not be a candidate for congress in the event that Mahoning county "got together" on one man.

Connelly, Alleged Pickpocket,
Walked Out of the Jail
at Chester.

PERSUADED BY A PISTOL

He Soon Surrendered and Was Taken
Back—Detectives Say He Is One
of the Slickest Thieves in the Country.

The notorious pickpocket who was arrested at Chester on Wednesday evening by Railroad Detective Jester on one of the excursion trains of the Homestead merchants picnic, and who gave his name as Thomas Connelly, escaped from the Chester jail yesterday afternoon at about 3 o'clock, using a wrench to break the jail cage lock.

James Hadley, an employee of the Chester tin mill, discovered the escape. He was seated on the town hall steps when Connelly left the building by the side window. As soon as he learned that the man had gone he started on the hunt for an officer. He soon met Hassey. The officers started in the direction taken by the escaped prisoner, and just before arriving within sight of the river they discovered him. At that time he was endeavoring to conceal himself in the tall weeds near the Chester approach of the Ohio river bridge. A crowd followed the police.

Connelly determined to run for the river but refrained from doing so upon seeing Officer Elliott's big six shooter staring him in the face and hearing the officer say, "Hold up your hands." As soon as his hands went up Policeman Hassey advanced and handcuffed him. Connelly was escorted to the town lock-up followed by a large crowd.

It is believed by the officers that a confederate in some manner gained entrance to the jail and handed him the wrench with which the escape was made. A suspicious character has been seen in the neighborhood of the building several times since the pickpocket was arrested.

The prisoner said he had poked the wrench within reach with the aid of a broom which he was able to reach from his cell. But the officers say there was no broom within his reach and he could not have reached the wrench even with this assistance.

Connelly was evidently in no great hurry to get away from the jail, for as soon as he got out of his cell he stopped to put on all of his clothes, even to his necktie, and then climbed through the window at the side of the building and thence went across the fields towards the river.

Detective J. E. Reeves, of the railroad, who was in Chester last evening, stated that he had had trouble with the same man once before several years ago in Buffalo and arrested him at that time on a similar charge. The prisoner is not a new one at the business, it is said, and is alleged to be one of the slickest men of his craft in the country. It is also said that he is wanted by the officials of several towns and that the authorities of no less than three states have been after him for some time.

Detective Jester stated yesterday that he had been shadowing the man all day Wednesday and was finally rewarded by catching him in the act of stealing a woman's pocket book.

Connelly was taken to New Cumberland this morning by Railroad Detective William Johnston, where he will be given a hearing today before Judge Hervey.

To Give a Dance.

Committees from the police and fire departments met last evening and decided to give a dance at Rock Springs park on the evening of June 30. It will be for the benefit of the departments and will undoubtedly be a great success.

TOO MUCH MEDICINE NEARLY CAUSED DEATH

Mrs. Mary McCullough, living in Drury lane, between Jackson and Market streets, came dangerously near ending her earthly existence yesterday afternoon, when she took a dose of medicine for the purpose of alleviating pain due to an attack of the cramps.

Having suffered intensely throughout the day and not being able to soothe the pain with moderate doses of lightning hot drops and paregoric, she, in a fit of exasperation, seized a

SALVATION ARMY SOON TO BUILD

Success of Booth Tucker Meeting
Gives Building Project
a Big Boom.

THE SITE TO BE BOUGHT

And Preparations Made for Early
Erection of the Army Home.
Crowds Greeted the Commander
And Over $700 Was Raised.

As a result of the Booth-Tucker meeting last evening, which was successful beyond expectation, the Salvation Army will at once take steps looking toward the erection of its proposed new building. The Warner property on Third street, on which the Army has had an option for $4,000 for some time, will be the site and the deal for it will be closed at once.

Salvation Army finances are looking up. With the $700, raised at last night's meeting, added to present funds, there will be only about $1,300 to be raised to complete the purchase of the lot. The 10-room dwelling now on the lot will be moved back, remodeled and will probably rent for $25 per month. The rent for the present barracks is $14 a month. There will thus be $39 a month saved, enough to more than meet the interest on the proposed new building until it is fully paid for.

The plans for the new home for the army are in the hands of Architect A. W. Scott and will soon be ready. The army has greatly prospered under the administration of Adjutant Snyder for the past six months. The interest aroused last evening will no doubt result in further stimulus. The officers are greatly encouraged and will push the building project and their work.

Booth Tucker, commander of the Salvation Army of the United States, was greeted at the opera house last evening by a very large audience, all anxious to see the man who had given up an exalted position in the India courts to follow the life he felt that God had laid out for him.

The personality of this man, so famous during his service in the United States, is most pleasing. He possesses a kindly bearing, self-assured air, soothing and convincing speech and is undoubtedly a man of a strong mind and conscience.

Surrounding Commander Tucker on the stage were the members of the local corps, Rev. Dr. Clark Crawford, M. C. Wright, Colonel R. E. Holz, of Cleveland, Staff Captain White, of Pittsburgh, and Capt. Strobel, of Cleveland. Each took part in the service and the audience felt as if it were in the midst of a great camp meeting.

Before going to the opera house the army, in command of Adjutant Snyder, marched through the streets of the city from the headquarters to the Diamond. Here a short song and prayer service was held and Commander Tucker was introduced to the immense crowd that collected. He made a short address, saying how much pleasure it gave him to be among East Liverpool people, since in this city one of the veteran corps of the United States is prospering and making strides equalled only by cities very much larger in population.

With music by the band and singing by the audience the meeting was opened with much enthusiasm. M. C. Wright followed with prayer and then the speaker of the evening was introduced and welcomed in a cordial manner by Rev. Dr. Crawford. Commander Tucker replied to the greeting in a fervent manner and continued his address in part as follows:

"Six years ago when I was made commander of the army of the United States we had a very discouraging outlook before us. What a change has taken place since then! We have been growing steadily and are now one of the strongest armies in the world. When I entered the field we had but

2,000 officers in America; now we have 3,000. We had 600 meetings a year, now we have 90,000. We had only $20,000 to run the expenses of the army and we thought we were doing well. Now we have at our command $300,000 annually.

"The enrollment of the army has greatly increased, and I have every reason to believe that we will continue growing in this good work as the years go by. We furnish help for the needy in numerous different ways. We run against some very peculiar and rather comical circumstances in our travels among the lowly. Recently one of our officers in Chicago met a man that was almost down in the street, due to intoxication. The officer approached him and said: 'What is your name?' 'I don't believe I know,' he replied. 'Well, where have you been?' 'I don't know,' he said. 'It may have been a wedding or it may have been a funeral, but what ever it was, I must say that it was a complete success.'

"The wall of the army is like the Irishman's wall. It is built so broad at the top that if it were to fall over it would be higher than it was when standing erect. The Salvation Army problem is a mighty one. Our modern

VERY EXCITING

IS THE CONTEST BETWEEN THE WETS AND THE DRY.

Lisbon Votes Monday on the Question
of Abolishing the Saloons.

Lisbon, June 20.—(Special)—Lisbon will vote on Monday on the saloon question. As the time draws near the fight grows warmer, and both sides are making every effort to succeed, but neither is at all confident. The vote will probably be very close. Well attended anti-saloon meetings are being held every evening this week.

These meetings are generally held in the public square by eloquent speakers, very often by officers of the anti-saloon league. Thomas H. Clark, a prominent lawyer of Columbus, delivered one of the best last night to a large audience at the opera house. The saloon faction have Rev. Mr. Brown, colored, who claims to be an itinerant evangelist, to speak in their behalf. He prays first and then contradicts what the temperance men say afterwards. Both sides are making a man to man canvass and the saloon people are reported using money freely. Rumor says that they have a contribution of $14,000 from the Ohio Liquor league for use in the campaign. It is noticeable that there has been more drunkenness during the last week than at almost any other time. The meetings are often interrupted by drunken men and they are in evidence on the streets at all times.

GRANTED A DIVORCE

Henry Allison Secures Legal Separation From an Erring
Wife.

Lisbon, June 20.—(Special)—Henry Allison, of Lisbon, has been granted a divorce from Mary J. Allison, of East Liverpool, on the grounds of unfaithfulness. They were married in 1887 and have four children, of whom he was given the custody.

The testimony was of a highly sensational character. Since leaving her husband three years ago Mrs. Allison seems to have played the part of an abandoned woman. She lived with Edward Cole for about five weeks at New Brighton, Pa. She also had associated with other men in East Liverpool.

Licensed to Wed.

Lisbon, June 20.—(Special)—Marriage licenses have been granted as follows:

Alfred Howard and Louisa Kforie, both of Salem.

John R. Richards, of West Virginia, and Belle Nagle, of Wellsville.

O. R. Ruse, of Pittsburgh, and Lillian Custer, of East Palestine, secured a license and were married here by Rev. George Fowler.

Judgment on a Note.

Lisbon, June 20.—(Special)—John W. Russell, of Wellsville, has taken judgment in common pleas court against Lucian Mortopietro for $610.25 due on a note. He foreclosed a mortgage on lot 3 in Lucy Russell's addition to Wellsville.

ELOQUENT CENTENNIAL SERMON

Church History By the Pastor and Reminiscences By Ex-Pastors of the Congregation Were the Features
of the Memorable Day.

Every seat in the building occupied, additional seating room outside the building filled and old friends greeting each other as only old friends know how.

Such was the picture that was presented at the centennial anniversary services at Long's Run Presbyterian church at Calcutta yesterday morning and afternoon. The day was one that will be long remembered by those who attended. From 1,200 to 1,500 visited the old church during the day and evening. From early morning until late in the afternoon people were going and coming at the church and church yard.

There were people present from miles around. Lisbon and East Liverpool were well represented. The scenes about the church were most pleasant. Here and there were groups of people talking about the church, of its struggles in its earlier days, of those who have died, of those living, and those who have been a help to the church ever since it was organized. It was a day of rejoicing. Never before were so many wagons, buggies and other vehicles and horses seen about the church yard, and in the immediate vicinity as yesterday.

The anniversary services commenced in the church at 10:30 a. m. So many persons were present that not one-half could be accommodated in the little auditorium.

The pulpit was tastefully decorated with flowers, of such beauty as is rarely known except in the country districts. The large chandelier in the center of the church was superbly decorated with ferns. After a short devotional service, the centennial sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. William Dickson, of Canfield, O., who was pastor of the church from 1861 to 1865. In part Dr. Dickson said after taking a text from II. Samuel 6:14:

"For the stone shall cry out of the wall and the beam out of the timber shall answer it. The text is in part obscure, and in part grandly sublime. It is also delightfully practical. Although the fig tree shall not blossom, neither shall fruit be in the vines.

"Let us give and hear earnest attention to the voice of the stones and the beams. Consider their testimony in human conduct: We will, in thought, set out on a tour of investigation and inquire, and will visit the Palace of the Tyrant. 'Come, we will enter one of these.' It was a splendid specimen of kingly wealth and magnificence nearly 2,000 years ago. It was built by Nebuchadnezzar. This was in Babylon. Now it is ashes and ruins. So it is all through life. Much of the popular literature dies early and ought to die. Out of 1,000 books published 600 never pay the cost of printing, 200 pay expenses, 100 return a slight profit.

That Office in the Stationary Engineers May Fall to R. A. Orin.

The sixth annual convention of the Ohio State Association of Stationary Engineers began its work in Newark yesterday in the Red Men's Hall. State President Joseph Howie, of Cleveland, and State Secretary R. A. Orin, of this city, will be prominent in the convention.

One matter that will be advanced at the this meeting is that of paying the state secretary a sufficient salary in order that he may devote all his time to the work. It is likely this office of national secretary will fall to R. A. Orin, of this city, who is the present state secretary of the organization.

TOBACCO ASSAILED.

Pronouncement to the Milwaukee Episcopal Diocese Clergymen.

BISHOP URGES THEY ABSTAIN.

Nicholson Maintains There Is Not Trace of Spiritual Help or Physical Gain From Its Use and Untold Evils Have Resulted.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 20.—Bishop Nicholson, of the Milwaukee Episcopal diocese, has created a mild sensation among the priests and laity of the diocese by issuing a sort of a pronouncement against the use of tobacco. The pronouncement is submitted as an object lesson, and while the bishop commends it to the good judgment of the priests, without decreeing against the use of tobacco in so many words, nevertheless it has created quite a considerable stir.

The bishop maintains that there is not one trace of spiritual help or physical gain from the use of tobacco, but untold evils have resulted from its use.

The extent to which the bishop's abhorrence toward tobacco goes is evidenced by the statement that if it is true that Sir Walter Raleigh introduced tobacco into England, 'tis a pity that the ship that carried him did not sink in the ocean.

OPPOSE A STRIKE.

ATTITUDE OF SOME OF WESTERN MINERS.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 20.—The arrival of President W. R. Russell and Secretary-Treasurer W. D. Ryan, of the Illinois miners' organization, for a conference with National President Mitchell was the only event of any importance around strike headquarters yesterday. The two Illinois leaders arrived at 3 o'clock and immediately went into conference with their chief, which lasted two hours. President Mitchell, after the meeting, said they came to see him for the purpose of "discussing western mining matters."

Not Unanimous For Strike.

There is not the slightest doubt that the Illinois officials brought information to Mr. Mitchell which will be of use to him in connection with the Indianapolis meeting. Information has reached here through different sources that the soft coal miners in the west are not unanimous for a general strike, and some of them, it is said, are against a partial suspension. Those men who oppose a strike are willing to give financial aid to the anthracite strikers, but some of the leaders are not ready to accept this sort of aid. In the spring of 1900, when a strike levy of 25 cents a month for each member of the United Mine Workers of America was made, there were only three state organizations that responded in full. They were Iowa, Illinois and Indiana. There is now a strike tax of 10 cents a month for each member in force, but as far as can be learned this is not being paid in full by all the districts in the country. For this reason the leaders would rather have the bituminous miners either strike or partially suspend operations. President Mitchell has been in close communication with the leaders of the various districts, and whatever plan they decide upon will no doubt be adopted by the convention. No radical action such as a total suspension of work by the entire membership of the organization is looked for.

President Mitchell received information yesterday from West Virginia which he said indicates that the strike there is progressing most favorably. He said more men are now out in that territory than at any other time since the strike in the Virginias began. Large gains have been made, he said, along the line of the Norfolk and Western railroad.

Iowa Officials Against Strike. Des Moines, Ia., June 20.—President J. P. Reese, of the Iowa district of United Mine Workers, is opposed to a strike in this state, and predicts that none will take place. Other union officers are said to hold similar views. The miners, who number 15,000, are under contract with the operators for one year from April 1 last. The field is thoroughly organized.

Saginaw, Mich., June 20.—As President M. P. Williams signed the call for the convention with the approval of the executive board, there is little doubt that Michigan will vote in the national gathering for a general strike. Industries in this region already are feeling the effect of the shortage of coal. Twenty-five hundred miners have been on strike for several months.

President of Arkansas University. Little Rock, Ark., June 20.—The board of trustees of the University of Arkansas have elected Harrison Randolph, of Virginia, president of that institution, vice Dr. John L. Buchanan, resigned.

A good deal has been written about
the helpfulness of the electric rail-
roads in taking the country to the city.
Certainly the urban lines which extend
into rural districts help to stimulate
travel and local trade for the city. Now
it develops that the trolley road is taking the city to the country. In New England, where long trolley roads are
very common, summer vacationists
find it enjoyable to journey to mountain and seashore resorts by the electric cars. In many instances the end of the road is so near the fishing or
hunting districts that the latter are as
accessible as if the pleasure seekers
had traveled by the steam railroads.
The trolley is fast destroying rural
isolation, but it is a mighty factor in
increasing the facilities for business
and pleasure of all sorts and a benefit
to all sorts of people.

The stream of graduates pouring
from the doors of the four hundred colleges and universities in this country
during this month reaches such unusual proportions that it may well
challenge more than passing attention
from the public. If we may judge of
the size of many of these classes the
popular belief that "knowledge is
power" and that college education is
of great value in equipping young men
and young women for the obligations
of intelligent citizenship and for the
mastering of some chosen calling has
suffered no declension.

Bryan, who won most of his reputation as a prophet of evil, has been predicting civil war on the island of Cuba. This will worry nobody. Bryan's prophecies have never yet come true.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Nancy Hickman.

Mrs. Nancy Hickman, aged 72 years,
one of the oldest members of the Long's
Run Presbyterian church, died last
evening at 10:30 o'clock at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. T.
Smith, of Calcutta road. She had been ill since early in April, and death was
due to old age. The funeral services
will be held Sunday afternoon at 3
o'clock at the Smith residence, the
services being in charge of Rev. P. W.
Snyder, of Calcutta, and Rev. J. N.
Swan, of this city.

Mrs. Hickman was well known
through this part of Columbiana
county, having been born on a farm
that at present adjoins the old Hick-
man homestead at Calcutta. Her husband, A. R. Hickman, died about six years ago. She is survived by the following children: V. Q. Hickman, of
Pittsburg; Mrs. J. M. Swan, of Canton,
China; Mrs. J. T. Smith and J. C.
Hickman, of this city; E. N. Hickman,
of Calcutta, and Mrs. J. A. McIntosh,
of Cannon's Mill.

Mrs. Myrtle Litton.

Mrs. Myrtle Litton, aged 22, wife of Irwin Litton, died at their home, Eighteenth and Front streets, Wellsville,
yesterday. She had been ill only a few days, and her husband has not recovered from a severe attack of typhoid fever. The young couple came
to Wellsville from Jackson county, W.
Va., three months ago. She leaves a six-months-old babe. Her remains will be shipped this evening by boat to Jackson county.

Martha Brock.

Mrs. Martha Brock, aged 75 years, died at her home at Ironside last evening. She was a prominent member of the Baptist church and will be buried tomorrow.

Elsie, Grim.

Elsie, the young daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. R. H. Grim, of Wellsville, died this morning. Interment will be made at Spring Hill cemetery tomorrow.

Drayer and knocked him down.

"I would know the fellow if I should see him. I believe that is he sitting
there by you.

"Mary and I walked down the street
and the two tall fellows came up. I saw Buchheit strike a blow. It was on Washington street. I tried to get John to speak to me. Two men took him to the fish market. I saw two
blows struck. I did not see Buchheit
kick him. The two tall fellows ran.

"Drayer did not attempt to strike
the tall fellows. He did not lie there
very long. He called me Maggie and
asked me to take him home. I went
with him to the fish market, and then went to Mary Hutton's after he was
put to bed. Drayer did not know me Sunday afternoon. He complained of his head hurting back of his ear. The blows Buchheit struck landed on his eyes. I waited till his eyes got better
then I went to Hammondsville. I only
saw one man strike John.

"John said he did not know who
struck him. I had seen Buchheit lots
of times. I could not be mistaken in
the man and am positive that no other
man struck any blows."

Cross-examined Miss Milliron said:
"Tom, John and Mary and I were together. Mary and I started out alone.
The tall fellows were ahead of us.
They stopped and talked to us. John
and Tom were behind us. I turned around and came back before going
far. The conversation took place east
of Washington street. When I got back
the tall men were gone. The tall one struck the first blow. He struck with
and blackened his eyes. I was looking
when the blows were struck. The tall
fellows ran after the blows were struck. Tom ran over to the restaurant.

"I saw Boyd pick up a brick, but he did not throw it. He meant to throw
it, but did not. He told me he intended to throw it. The man hit Drayer
with his fists. He had an umbrella in
one hand. It was raised all the time.
Drayer was lying on the ground when I got to him. I raised him up. Drayer
was my fellow. He went with me a
good while."

Mary Hutton testified: "I live on Market street, East Liverpool. I knew Drayer only two weeks. On June 7 I was with Mary Milliron standing in front of a drug store on Second street.
Tom met Drayer with us at the corner
of Union and Second streets. We walked down to Second and Washington.

Two tall fellows were behind us and
Tom and John behind them. John said
to those two men: 'Do those girls owe
you anything?' Then one of the tall
fellows knocked him down. I saw no
blows struck. I went to Second and Market. Mary went where John lay.
There were two tall fellows and a heavy set man. I would not know any
of them. I did not see Tom run."

Dennis Linger's testimony was as follows: "I live at the corner of Second and Washington streets. On the night of June 7 I was at the corner
about 12 o'clock. I saw a man hit another one twice on Washington street.
I wasn't close enough to see to know
him. I saw a man bent over another
one. That attracted my attention. He fell after the second blow. I did not see him get kicked. The man lay
there after being hit. He was sitting down when hit first. One said: 'Tell
him to get up.'

"I walked over to the man. He was lying then with face down. I saw blood
on his mouth and breast. I don't know
who took him away. I saw a girl
come to him and commence crying."

On cross-examination Linger said:
"The man hit Drayer one very hard
lick. When the blow was struck it
sounded as if he struck with his fist."

Dr. Brindley told of the post mortem. It revealed a depressed fracture of the skull. There was an artery
severed. "I found a clot of blood and
two fractures. I discovered no bruises
on his body. Either bruise would have caused the death of the man." The doctor showed a piece of the skull.
Any direct blow would have caused
that. The death was caused by a blow
inflicted on the head.

Dr. Taylor's testimony was given in an interview published in the News Review yesterday. He said that death
could have been the result of the skull
coming in contact with the pavement.
The three bones could have been frac-
tured by one blow, but that was hardly probable.

At the conclusion of this evidence
Mayor Davidson said: "There is no
doubt in my mind that the assault
caused the man's death. I therefore feel it my duty to hold the prisoner for
the common pleas court, fixing his
bond at $5,000."

Buchheit was then led back to his cell.

DON'T CROWD, GENTLEMEN

How Mr. Swearingen's Parrot Managed a Crowd of Noisy Birds.

Daniel Swearingen owns a beautiful green parrot that is said to be the largest of the many parrots in town. It is docile and kind and has been given many privileges. Finally it grew independent and took up its habitat in the hills north of Wellsville.

A number of men located "Jack" in a tall tree near town. The parrot was obtained by Mr. Swearingen of a ticket seller at a circus and is a good talker. The men found it surrounded by a bevy of robins, swallows and crows. Jack was making his antagonists a great speech and was saying: "Now don't crowd up, gentlemen. One at a time and you'll all be accommodated. There are tickets for all of you."

When a crow gave him a savage peck the parrot said: "Get away, you black devil; let the other people come up and be served."

Just then the parrot caught the crow by the neck and gave him a wrench that sent him to the ground.

A futile endeavor was made to capture the bird.

NEW U. P. CHURCH

Wellsville Not Likely to See the Project Carried Out This Year.

The building of a new United Presbyterian church in Wellsville this year is a matter that remains in embryo.

At the meeting next Wednesday evening the trustees will recommend that meetings be held in the old church for another year, as they do not believe that they can dispose of the building and lot advantageously at the present time. They think that the property is worth $10,000 and wish to make a fair bargain.

The trustees want full permission of the congregation to purchase a new lot and develop the plans for the new church. It will cost heavily to repair the old church. It would take 200 to remove the tottering steeple. Lots can be purchased reasonably and the trustees believe in planning for a fine new church next year and want authority to act.

TROUBLE OVER A SEWER

Lisbon Street Residents Say It Is Expensive to Make Connections.

Mrs. Mary Gallagher, of Lisbon street, appeared before a justice of the peace last evening and complained that Contractor Harrison Rhinehart insisted on leading a pipe to conduct surface water into a drain from Mrs. Gallagher's property. She said that she had constructed the drain at her own expense and did not wish it to be filled up, as would happen if she permitted its use as a surface drain. She said that the contractor threatened to use the drain without her consent and she wished to protect her property.

The main sewer on Lisbon street is 35 feet from the surface and it is very expensive for the people to connect with it on account of the depth. Lisbon street residents think that a shallow sewer should be constructed. The ordinance for paving that street, they say, was passed without any regard to the wishes or consent of the property owners.

ANOTHER OFFICER

ADDED TO CHESTER POLICE FORCE BY ACT OF COUNCIL.

Ex-Marshal of Irondale the Man. Opening of Third Street—No Action on Paving.

Chester has another policeman. He is John John Elliott. He was chosen by council last night and began work today. He is to be on duty from 2 p. m. to 2 a. m. The appointment is considered a good one. Elliott was formerly marshal of Irondale.

Councilman Johnston, of the street committee, reported that numerous complaints had been made of the condition of Third street from California avenue to Virginia avenue. Its condition was bad and he suggested that Third street be opened to the river front and at the two intersections a sufficient fill be made so that the present drainage difficulty could be overcome.

After some discussion Mr. Johnston moved that the city engineer be instructed to furnish a grade continuing Third street to the river. The motion was carried.

No action could be taken on the paving ordinance, as City Solicitor Oliver Marshall was not present and no ordinance had been prepared. It will be acted upon at the next meeting.

Councilman Riley's motion, that the engineer be instructed to establish a grade on Indiana avenue between First and Second streets, as several people wished to build there, was carried.

civilization is confronted with four great aids. They are religion, home, virtue and work. For all these we must fight. One of the greatest helps toward the American people conquering in all lies in the fact that they are not afraid to acknowledge the greatness and goodness of God at all times. Our president never forgets to attach the name of God to his official messages and thereby evidences the respect of the nation as a whole for the Supreme Being.

For fully two hours the speaker held the audience to the closest attention and described the work of the army in all its phases. He dwelt chiefly on the farm colony scheme and explained in a convincing manner the good that is being derived from it.

At the conclusion of his most interesting talk a collection was taken from the audience to help in the erection of the new edifice to be built in this city by the army. Over $700 was subscribed and this, with what Adjutant Snyder has already raised, makes the total over $2,000.

YATES--GEORGE

A HANDSOME WEDDING AT A THIRD STREET HOME.

Impressive Ceremony Performed By Rev. Chas. G. Jordan Yesterday Noon.

The wedding of John N. George and Miss Carrie Yates, which took place at the bride's home on Third street yesterday, in the presence of relatives and friends, was a very fine affair. The house was prettily decorated in palms and pink roses, and in one corner of the parlor was arranged an artistic bower of tropical plants and vines.

Promptly at 12 o'clock, to the music of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Elizabeth Crawford, the wedding party appeared, preceded by Rev. C. G. Jordan, who performed the ceremony, using the Episcopal ring service. Little Miss Marion George, a sister of the groom, acted as flower girl while her brother, Master Allen George, acted as ring bearer. The flower girl's dress was of Persian lawn trimmed with valenciennes lace and ribbon. She carried a basket of pink roses. Master George wore a white suit and carried the wedding ring upon a silver tray.

Following these two little people were the bride and groom unattended. In the bower at the end of the room the ceremony was performed.

The bride's gown was a pretty creation of white chiffon mulle, en traine, trimmed with white satin ribbon. She carried a handsome bouquet of La France roses.

A delightful wedding breakfast was served. As the guests entered the dining room the bride presented each lady with a rose from her bouquet. The dining room was prettily decorated.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful presents, among those to the bride being a handsome diamond brooch set with pearls, a gift from the groom.

The bride is well known to a large circle of friends, having been a stenographer in the Laughlin No. 2 pottery, while the groom is a popular civil engineer of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. George left last evening for Cleveland, Buffalo and Niagara Falls for two weeks. They expect to occupy their new home on Thompson hill early in July.

Mt. Union Faculty Withholds Leetonia Boy's Diploma for Printing Caricature.

Alliance, June 20.—The commencement exercises of Mount Union College closed yesterday in a whirl of sensations. When President A. B. Riker announced the degree the name of Vernon C. Snyder, of Leetonia was omitted. Snyder was editor of the Union, the college annual. At a meeting of the faculty it was decided to withhold young Snyder's diploma, because, it is charged, he insisted on printing a burlesque on one of the college professors. The picture represented the professor with his arm around one of the girl students. Snyder threatens to appeal to the courts.

This disease is generally regarded as incurable, mainly for the reason that the remedies usually employed are ineffectual. That it can be cured, however, has been fully proven in many cases. The following tells of one of them: Mr. T. W. Greathouse, of Prattsburgh, Ga., says: "I had been suffering from chronic diarrhoea for seven years. Last year I began taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and it has entirely cured me. I had spent lots of money for doctors' medicine in the run of the seven years. If it had not been for this remedy I would have been dead now, and I feel that I can never say too much in its favor or recommend it too highly." Sold by Alvin H. Bulger, Druggist.

PITCHERS' BATTLE
MOST INTERESTING

Sharon Lost the Game, Though East Liverpool Had Not Its Strongest Line-up.

GREAT TWIRLING WAS DONE

Visitors Made But Three Runs. All in One Inning—Locals Ran the Score
Up to Seven And Then Stopped.
Features of the Games.

The Sharon base ball team lost the first game of the series in West End park yesterday by a score of 7 to 3. The game was very interesting throughout and not a person was seen applying to the gatekeeper for his money back.

Judging from the strike outs credited to each pitcher, one would think that it was surely a pitchers' battle. In one sense it was and the work done by each was highly commendable. Hyland, for the visitors, allowed the locals to make quite a number of hits, but it was not his fault. He tried hard to place them just a little below the bat each time, and certainly cannot be blamed because Fred Heckathorn realized his intention at least five times and belted the ball out to the swamps. However, his work was all that could be desired. It was very seldom that a twirler is credited with 11 strike outs.

By losing the first game it is almost assured that Sharon will be compelled to return to the smoky regions without gaining a single victory, the fans say. They should have taken advantage of the local lineup. It was probably weaker than it has been for weeks. In the remaining two games the Sharon boys will meet the best the city can afford. Harker will be back from Betnany, where he went to help the Phoenix out, and several other changes will be made.

In the first inning the locals made a good start, scoring two runs, but were unable to keep the pace until the fifth, when they added two more to the list. At the end of the seventh they had seven and then took a back seat. It was not necessary to make any more, and they retained their latent energy. The visitors made their total number in the fifth and it looked for a few minutes as if they might be the victors, but their last struggle was over. They never rallied again, and only tried to keep their opponents score as low as possible.

Tommy Boyle, formerly with the Winter A. C., of Pittsburg, played at short for the locals and again demonstrated his ability as a true blue ball player. Short is not his regular position, but he did not forget how to handle the balls at that.

Fred Heckathorn not only played all around first base, but handled the stick with a record-breaking skill. Only at the bat five times and then getting five hits is a great record.

In the box Patterson proved himself at home as usual. He was steady at all times and held the visitors under excellent control.

But one man of the visiting aggregation acquitted himself in a manner deserving comment. He was the third baseman, Yoho. In that position he is all right and will some day be among the leaguers if he continues at the same speed that he played yesterday.

Wintering in Colorado And Utah. The climate of Colorado and Utah has long been world famous, but it is only within recent years that attention has been given to the delightful winter climate of these states. Today physicians all over the United States send their patients to Colorado and Utah to escape the rigors of eastern winters and to benefit by her invigorating atmosphere and health-giving sunshine.

It is not necessary to add an elaborate argument—the conclusion is self-evident and inevitable. The winter climate of Colorado and Utah on the whole presents advantages for the invalid and the pleasure-seeker that cannot fail to command attention.

An erroneous impression prevails that because the Rocky mountains have a high elevation the mercury in the thermometer drops down below zero in the winter season and stops there, and that the snow mounts up with the altitude. The fact is that the average precipitation of moisture in the lowlands of the mountain region during the entire year is only 14.15 inches. With such average precipitation there is practically no danger of snow blockades on the railroads, save at a few points exposed to drifts and these points have been amply protected. This is especially true of the lines of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western between Denver and Ogden at all seasons of the year. Facts speak for themselves, and the fact is that travel over "The Scenic Line of the World" has gone on with less interruption from snow blockades during the last ten winters than it has upon the majority of railroads in other localities which are popularly supposed to be more free from such delays than the mountain systems. The sixth annual convention of the Ohio State Association of Stationary Engineers began its work in Newark yesterday in the Red Men's Hall. State President Joseph Howle, of Cleveland, and State Secretary R. A. Orin, of this city, will be prominent in the convention.

It is likely this office of national secretary will fall to R. A. Orin, of this city, who is the present state secretary of the organization.

YOUNG ED BUCHHEIT TO GO TO LISBON JAIL

At the Conclusion of the Hearing Yesterday
Mayor Davidson Fixed Bail at $5,000.

of the Young Man's Guilt.

The hearing of Edward Buchheit, charged with killing John Drayer, was concluded before Mayor Davidson yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock. The mayor held the accused under $5,000 bail for court.

Upon being returned to his cell after hearing the testimony of the witnesses yesterday afternoon Edward Buchheit broke down completely, and last night and today was very restless. He cried at intervals and seemed very much worked up over his unenviable plight. He is very reticent about talking, refusing almost absolutely to converse with any one but his attorney and relatives.

John Buchheit, his father, was expected to arrive in the city on the noon train from Akron to go on his son's bond but failed to do so and as a result the mayor ordered that the prisoner be taken to the county jail at Lisbon tomorrow morning.

Mary Milliron will also be taken over and confined in the jail, she not being able to furnish $100 for her appearance in court as a witness.

A special grand jury will be impaneled next week to take action on the case and several others which have materialized since the opening of the present term of court. Cases being set for trial on every day of next week it is very probable that this case will be assigned for the week commencing July 2.

The testimony of John McBane, briefly summarized yesterday, was as follows:

"I have lived here for 32 years, and am a teamster. I have known Buchheit for many years, but did not know Drayer. I was on Second street with Buchheit on that Saturday evening, and we intended to go to the creek. There were two crowds to go. Buchheit asked me where he could get a wagon to make the trip. He started ahead of me down Second street, and I saw Buchheit stop and talk to two young ladies. Two men came along and one asked Buchheit if the girls showed him anything to which Buchheit replied: 'What has that got to do with the case?'

"I heard one blow struck. The man that fell to the ground was a stranger to me. I didn't know whether the sound was that of a man striking another or that of a man's head striking the ground. I went to Drayer, who was a stranger to me and I said: 'Get up partner,' and then Buchheit, who had started across the street, came back and he also told him to get up. It seemed to me that Drayer was stunned. All I saw there were Drayer and his partner and Buchheit."

The witness was not cross-examined. Thomas Boyd, the next witness, said he had lived here for 12 years. He said he knew Buchheit but not very well. He was on Second street with John Drayer and two girls, and was standing in the Second street drug store door. "We stood there a while and the girls left us first. Drayer then followed the girls and I was the last. Two other men came along and were talking to the girls when Drayer caught up to them. I heard something said about owing some one money, and by the time I reached the corner I saw Drayer lying on the pavement. The men then came back and I ran away as I thought they were coming after me. I saw no blows struck however."

The only thing of interest brought out in Boyd's cross-examination was the following statement: "I picked up a brick and did not get more than one step when I saw the man coming at me. I dropped the brick and ran down Second street. I saw nothing more of the parties until the next day."

Mary Milliron, who witnessed the assault, testified: "I live in Ohioville, Pa. I am working at Hammondsville."

BROKE THE LOCK AND ESCAPED

Connelly, Alleged Pickpocket,
Walked Out of the Jail
at Chester.

PERSUADED BY A PISTOL

He Soon Surrendered and Was Taken
Back—Detectives Say He Is One
of the Slickest Thieves in the Country.

The notorious pickpocket who was arrested at Chester on Wednesday evening by Railroad Detective Jester on one of the excursion trains of the Homestead merchants picnic, and who gave his name as Thomas Connelly, escaped from the Chester jail yesterday afternoon at about 3 o'clock, using a wrench to break the jail cage lock.

James Hadley, an employee of the Chester tin mill, discovered the escape. He was seated on the town hall steps when Connelly left the building by the side window. As soon as he learned that the man had gone he started on the hunt for an officer. He soon met Hassey. The officers started in the direction taken by the escaped prisoner, and just before arriving within sight of the river they discovered him. At that time he was endeavoring to conceal himself in the tall weeds near the Chester approach of the Ohio river bridge. A crowd followed the police.

Connelly determined to run for the river but refrained from doing so upon seeing Officer Elliott's big six shooter staring him in the face and hearing the officer say, "Hold up your hands." As soon as his hands went up Policeman Hassey advanced and handcuffed him. Connelly was escorted to the town lock-up followed by a large crowd.

It is believed by the officers that a confederate in some manner gained entrance to the jail and handed him the wrench with which the escape was made. A suspicious character has been seen in the neighborhood of the building several times since the pickpocket was arrested.

The prisoner said he had poked the wrench within reach with the aid of a broom which he was able to reach from his cell. But the officers say there was no broom within his reach and he could not have reached the wrench even with this assistance.

Connelly was evidently in no great hurry to get away from the jail, for as soon as got out of his cell he stopped to put on all of his clothes, even to his necktie, and then climbed through the window at the side of the building and thence went across the fields towards the river.

Detective J. E. Reeves, of the railroad, who was in Chester last evening stated that he had had trouble with the same man once before several years ago in Buffalo and arrested him at that time on a similar charge. The prisoner is not a new one at the business, it is said, and is alleged to be one of the slickest men of his craft in the country. It is also said that he is wanted by the officials of several towns and that the authorities of no less than three states have been after him for some time.

Detective Jester stated yesterday that he had been shadowing the man all day Wednesday and was finally rewarded by catching him in the act of stealing a woman's pocket book.

Connelly was taken to New Cumberland this morning by Railroad Detective William Johnston, where he will be given a hearing today before Judge Hervey.

To Give a Dance.

Committees from the police and fire departments met last evening and decided to give a dance at Rock Springs park on the evening of June 30. It will be for the benefit of the departments and will undoubtedly be a great success.

TOO MUCH MEDICINE NEARLY CAUSED DEATH

Mrs. Mary McCullough, living in Drury lane, between Jackson and Market streets, came dangerously near ending her earthly existence yesterday afternoon, when she took a dose of medicine for the purpose of alleviating pain due to an attack of the cramps.

Having suffered intensely throughout the day and not being able to soothe the pain with moderate doses of lightning hot drops and paregoric, she, in a fit of exasperation, seized a bottle, which was nearly full of paregoric, and drained it to the last drop.

As a result she was thrown into a terrible agony and in a short time all the neighbors of the vicinity were at her side, attracted by her loud screams. They walked her up and down the lane for several hours, the women administering various remedies and finally the effects of the overdose disappeared.

Her escape from death is considered marvelous.

SALVATION ARMY SOON TO BUILD

Success of Booth Tucker Meeting
Gives Building Project
a Big Boom.

THE SITE TO BE BOUGHT

And Preparations Made for Early
Erection of the Army Home.
Crowds Greeted the Commander
And Over $700 Was Raised.

As a result of the Booth-Tucker meeting last evening, which was successful beyond expectation, the Salvation Army will at once take steps looking toward the erection of its proposed new building. The Warner property on Third street, on which the Army has had an option for $4,000 for some time, will be the site and the deal for it will be closed at once.

Salvation Army finances are looking up. With the $700, raised at last night's meeting, added to present funds, there will be only about $1,300 to be raised to complete the purchase of the lot. The 10-room dwelling now on the lot will be moved back, remodeled and will probably rent for $25 per month. The rent for the present barracks is $14 a month. There will thus be $39 a month saved, enough to more than meet the interest on the proposed new building until it is fully paid for.

The plans for the new home for the army are in the hands of Architect A. W. Scott and will soon be ready. The army has greatly prospered under the administration of Adjutant Snyder for the past six months. The interest aroused last evening will no doubt result in further stimulus. The officers are greatly encouraged and will push the building project and their work.

Booth Tucker, commander of the Salvation Army of the United States, was greeted at the opera house last evening by a very large audience, all anxious to see the man who had given up an exalted position in the India courts to follow the life he felt that God had laid out for him.

The personality of this man, so famous during his service in the United States, is most pleasing. He possesses a kindly bearing, self-assured air, soothing and convincing speech and is undoubtedly a man of a strong mind and conscience.

Surrounding Commander Tucker on the stage were the members of the local corps, Rev. Dr. Clark Crawford, M. C. Wright, Colonel R. E. Holz, of Cleveland, Staff Captain White, of Pittsburg, and Capt. Strobel, of Cleveland. Each took part in the service and the audience felt as if it were in the midst of a great camp meeting.

Before going to the opera house the army, in command of Adjutant Snyder, marched through the streets of the city from the headquarters to the Diamond. Here a short song and prayer service was held and Commander Tucker was introduced to the immense crowd that collected. He made a short address, saying how much pleasure it gave him to be among East Liverpool people, since in this city one of the veteran corps of the United States is prospering and making strides equaled only by cities very much larger in population.

With music by the band and singing by the audience the meeting was opened with much enthusiasm. M. C. Wright followed with prayer and then the speaker of the evening was introduced and welcomed in a cordial manner by Rev. Dr. Crawford. Commander Tucker replied to the greeting in a fervent manner and continued his address in part as follows:

"Six years ago when I was made commander of the army of the United States we had a very discouraging outlook before us. What a change has taken place since then! We have been growing steadily and are now one of the strongest armies in the world. When I entered the field we had but

"The enrollment of the army has greatly increased, and I have every reason to believe that we will continue growing in this good work as the years go by. We furnish help for the needy in numerous different ways. We run against some very peculiar and rather comical circumstances in our travels among the lowly. Recently one of our officers in Chicago met a man that was almost down in the street, due to intoxication. The officer approached him and said: 'What is your name?' 'I don't believe I know,' he replied. 'Well, where have you been?' 'I don't know,' he said. 'It may have been a wedding or it may have been a funeral, but what ever it was, I must say that it was a complete success.'

"The wall of the army is like the Irishman's wall. It is built so broad at the top that if it were to fall over it would be higher than it was when standing erect. The Salvation Army problem is a mighty one. Our modern

Saloons.

Lisbon, June 20. — (Special) — Lisbon will vote on Monday on the saloon question. As the time draws near the fight grows warmer, and both sides are making every effort to succeed, but neither is at all confident. The vote will probably be very close.

Well attended anti-saloon meetings are being held every evening this week.

These meetings are generally held in the public square by eloquent speakers, very often by officers of the anti-saloon league. Thomas H. Clark, a prominent lawyer of Columbus, delivered one of the best last night to a large audience at the opera house. The saloon faction have Rev. Mr. Brown, colored, who claims to be an itinerant evangelist, to speak in their behalf. He prays first and then contradicts what the temperance men say afterwards. Both sides are making a man to man canvass and the saloon people are reported using money freely. Rumor says that they have a contribution of $14,000 from the Ohio Liquor league for use in the campaign. It is noticeable that there has been more drunkenness during the last week than at almost any other time. The meetings are often interrupted by drunken men and they are in evidence on the streets at all times.

Lisbon, June 20. — (Special) — Henry Allison, of Lisbon, has been granted a divorce from Mary J. Allison, of East Liverpool, on the grounds of unfaithfulness. They were married in 1887 and have four children, of whom he was given the custody.

The testimony was of a highly sensational character. Since leaving her husband three years ago Mrs. Allison seems to have played the part of an abandoned woman. She lived with Edward Cole for about five weeks at New Brighton, Pa. She also had associated with other men in East Liverpool.

evening. From early morning until late in the afternoon people were going and coming at the church and church yard.

There were people present from miles around. Lisbon and East Liverpool were well represented. The scenes about the church were most pleasant. Here and there were groups of people talking about the church, of its struggles in its earlier days, of those who have died, of those living, and those who have been a help to the church ever since it was organized. It was a day of rejoicing. Never before were so many wagons, buggies and other vehicles and horses seen about the church yard, and in the immediate vicinity as yesterday.

The anniversary services commenced in the church at 10:30 a. m. So many persons were present that not one-half could be accommodated in the little auditorium.

The pulpit was tastefully decorated with flowers, of such beauty as is rarely known except in the country districts. The large chandelier in the center of the church was superbly decorated with ferns. After a short devotional service, the centennial sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. William Dickson, of Canfield, O., who was pastor of the church from 1861 to 1865. In part Dr. Dickson said after taking a text from II. Samuel 6:14:

"For the stone shall cry out of the wall and the beam out of the timber shall answer it. The text is in part obscure, and in part grandly sublime. It is also delightfully practical. Although the fig tree shall not blossom, neither shall fruit be in the vines."

YOUNG ED BUCHHEIT TO GO TO LISBON JAIL

At the Conclusion of the Hearing Yesterday
Mayor Davidson Fixed Bail at $5,000.

of the Young Man's Guilt.

The hearing of Edward Buchheit, charged with killing John Drayer, was concluded before Mayor Davidson yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock. The mayor held the accused under $5,000 bail for court.

Upon being returned to his cell after hearing the testimony of the witnesses yesterday afternoon Edward Buchheit broke down completely, and last night and today was very restless. He cried at intervals and seemed very much worked up over his unenviable plight. He is very reticent about talking, refusing almost absolutely to converse with any one but his attorney and relatives.

John Buchheit, his father, was expected to arrive in the city on the noon train from Akron to go on his son's bond but failed to do so and as a result the mayor ordered that the prisoner be taken to the county jail at Lisbon tomorrow morning.

Mary Milliron will also be taken over and confined in the jail, she not being able to furnish $100 for her appearance in court as a witness.

A special grand jury will be impaneled next week to take action on the case and several others which have materialized since the opening of the present term of court. Cases being set for trial on every day of next week it is very probable that this case will be assigned for the week commencing July 2.

The testimony of John McBane, briefly summarized yesterday, was as follows:

"I have lived here for 32 years, and am a teamster. I have known Buchheit for many years, but did not know Drayer. I was on Second street with Buchheit on that Saturday evening, and we intended to go to the creek. There were two crowds to go. Buchheit asked me where he could get a wagon to make the trip. He started ahead of me down Second street, and I saw Buchheit stop and talk to two young ladies. Two men came along and one asked Buchheit if the girls owed him anything to which Buchheit replied: 'What has that got to do with the case?'"

"I heard one blow struck. The man that fell to the ground was a stranger to me. I didn't know whether the sound was that of a man striking another or that of a man's head striking the ground. I went to Drayer, who was a stranger to me and I said: 'Get up partner,' and then Buchheit, who had started across the street, came back and he also told him to get up. It seemed to me that Drayer was stunned. All I saw there were Drayer and his partner and Buchheit."

The witness was not cross-examined. Thomas Boyd, the next witness, said he had lived here for 12 years. He said he knew Buchheit but not very well. He was on Second street with John Drayer and two girls, and was standing in the Second street drug store door. "We stood there a while and the girls left us first. Drayer then followed the girls and I was the last. Two other men came along and were talking to the girls when Drayer caught up to them. I heard something said about owing some one money, and by the time I reached the corner I saw Drayer lying on the pavement. The men then came back and I ran away as I thought they were coming after me. I saw no blows struck however."

The only thing of interest brought out in Boyd's cross-examination was the following statement: "I picked up a brick and did not get more than one step when I saw the man coming at me. I dropped the brick and ran down Second street. I saw nothing more of the parties until the next day."

Mary Milliron, who witnessed the assault, testified: "I live in Ohioville, Pa. I am working at Hammondsville."

I knew John Drayer some weeks. I met him at Schlegel's store for the first time. I was with Drayer a while on the night of June 7. I met him that night near Bagley's on Second street. Mary Hutton and I were standing on Washington street talking to two tall fellows. Drayer and another man came up. Drayer said: 'Do they owe you anything?' Then some one hit

BROKE THE LOCK AND ESCAPED

Connelly, Alleged Pickpocket,
Walked Out of the Jail
at Chester.

PERSUADED BY A PISTOL

He Soon Surrendered and Was Taken
Back—Detectives Say He Is One
of the Slickest Thieves in the Country.

The notorious pickpocket who was arrested at Chester on Wednesday evening by Railroad Detective Jester on one of the excursion trains of the Homestead merchants picnic, and who gave his name as Thomas Connelly, escaped from the Chester jail yesterday afternoon at about 3 o'clock, using a wrench to break the jail cage lock.

James Hadley, an employee of the Chester tin mill, discovered the escape. He was seated on the town hall steps when Connelly left the building by the side window. As soon as he learned that the man had gone he started on the hunt for an officer. He soon met Hassey. The officers started in the direction taken by the escaped prisoner, and just before arriving within sight of the river they discovered him. At that time he was endeavoring to conceal himself in the tall weeds near the Chester approach of the Ohio river bridge. A crowd followed the police.

Connelly determined to run for the river but refrained from doing so upon seeing Officer Elliott's big six shooter staring him in the face and hearing the officer say, "Hold up your hands." As soon as his hands went up Policeman Hassey advanced and handcuffed him. Connelly was escorted to the town lock-up followed by a large crowd.

It is believed by the officers that a confederate in some manner gained entrance to the jail and handed him the wrench with which the escape was made. A suspicious character has been seen in the neighborhood of the building several times since the pickpocket was arrested.

The prisoner said he had poked the wrench within reach with the aid of a broom which he was able to reach from his cell. But the officers say there was no broom within his reach and he could not have reached the wrench even with this assistance.

Connelly was evidently in no great hurry to get away from the jail, for as soon as he got out of his cell he stopped to put on all of his clothes, even to his necktie, and then climbed through the window at the side of the building and thence went across the fields towards the river.

Detective J. E. Reeves, of the railroad, who was in Chester last evening, stated that he had had trouble with the same man once before several years ago in Buffalo and arrested him at that time on a similar charge. The prisoner is not a new one at the business, it is said, and is alleged to be one of the slickest men of his craft in the country. It is also said that he is wanted by the officials of several towns and that the authorities of no less than three states have been after him for some time.

Detective Jester stated yesterday that he had been shadowing the man all day Wednesday and was finally rewarded by catching him in the act of stealing a woman's pocket book.

Connelly was taken to New Cumberland this morning by Railroad Detective William Johnston, where he will be given a hearing today before Judge Hervey.

Pronouncement to the Milwaukee Episcopal Diocese Clergymen.

BISHOP URGES THEY ABSTAIN.

Nicholson Maintains There Is Not Trace of Spiritual Help or Physical Gain From Its Use and Untold Evils Have Resulted.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 20.—Bishop Nicholson, of the Milwaukee Episcopal diocese, has created a mild sensation among the priests and laity of the diocese by issuing a sort of a pronouncement against the use of tobacco. The pronouncement is submitted as an object lesson, and while the bishop commends it to the good judgment of the priests, without decreeing against the use of tobacco in so many words, nevertheless it has created quite a considerable stir.

The bishop maintains that there is not one trace of spiritual help or physical gain from the use of tobacco, but untold evils have resulted from its use.

OPPOSE A STRIKE.

ATTITUDE OF SOME OF WESTERN MINERS.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 20.—The arrival of President W. R. Russell and Secretary-Treasurer W. D. Ryan, of the Illinois miners' organization, for a conference with National President Mitchell was the only event of any importance around strike headquarters yesterday. The two Illinois leaders arrived at 3 o'clock and immediately went into conference with their chief, which lasted two hours. President Mitchell, after the meeting, said they came to see him for the purpose of "discussing western mining matters."

Not Unanimous For Strike.

There is not the slightest doubt that the Illinois officials brought information to Mr. Mitchell which will be of use to him in connection with the Indianapolis meeting. Information has reached here through different sources that the soft coal miners in the west are not unanimous for a general strike, and some of them, it is said, are against a partial suspension. Those men who oppose a strike are willing to give financial aid to the anthracite strikers, but some of the leaders are not ready to accept this sort of aid. In the spring of 1900, when a strike levy of 25 cents a month for each member of the United Mine Workers of America was made, there were only three state organizations that responded in full. They were Iowa, Illinois and Indiana. There is now a strike tax of 10 cents a month for each member in force, but as far as can be learned this is not being paid in full by all the districts in the country. For this reason the leaders would rather have the bituminous miners either strike or partially suspend operations. President Mitchell has been in close communication with the leaders of the various districts, and whatever plan they decide upon will no doubt be adopted by the convention. No radical action such as a total suspension of work by the entire membership of the organization is looked for.

President Mitchell received information yesterday from West Virginia which he said indicates that the strike there is progressing most favorably. He said more men are now out in that territory than at any other time since the strike in the Virginias began. Large gains have been made, he said, along the line of the Norfolk and Western railroad.

Iowa Officials Against Strike. Des Moines, Ia., June 20.—President J. P. Reese, of the Iowa district of United Mine Workers, is opposed to a strike in this state, and predicts that none will take place. Other union officers are said to hold similar views. The miners, who number 15,000, are under contract with the operators for one year from April 1 last. The field is thoroughly organized.

Saginaw, Mich., June 20.—As President M. P. Williams signed the call for the convention with the approval of the executive board, there is little doubt that Michigan will vote in the national gathering for a general strike. Industries in this region already are feeling the effect of the shortage of coal. Twenty-five hundred miners have been on strike for several months.

President of Arkansas University.

Little Rock, Ark., June 20.—The board of trustees of the University of Arkansas have elected Harrison Randolph, of Virginia, president of that institution, vice Dr. John L. Buchanan, resigned.

A good deal has been written about
the helpfulness of the electric rail
roads in taking the country to the city.
Certainly the urban lines which extend
into rural districts help to stimulate
travel and local trade for the city. Now
it develops that the trolley road is tak
ing the city to the country. In New England, where long trolley roads are
very common, summer vacationists
find it enjoyable to journey to moun
tain and seashore resorts by the elec
tric cars. In many instances the end of the road is so near the fishing or
hunting districts that the latter are as
accessible as if the pleasure seekers
had traveled by the steam railroads.
The trolley is fast destroying rural
isolation, but it is a mighty factor in
increasing the facilities for business
and pleasure of all sorts and a benefit
to all sorts of people.

The stream of graduates pouring
from the doors of the four hundred col

during this month reaches such un
usual proportions that it may well
challenge more than passing attention
from the public. If we may judge of
the size of many of these classes the
popular belief that "knowledge is
power" and that college education is
of great value in equipping young men
and young women for the obligations
of intelligent citizenship and for the
mastering of some chosen calling has
suffered no declension.

Drayer and knocked him down.

"I would know the fellow if I should
see him. I believe that is he sitting
there by you.

"Mary and I walked down the street
and the two tall fellows came up. I saw Buchheit strike a blow. It was on Washington street. I tried to get John to speak to me. Two men took him to the fish market. I saw two
blows struck. I did not see Buchheit
kick him. The two tall fellows ran.

"Drayer did not attempt to strike
the tall fellows. He did not lie there
very long. He called me Maggie and
asked me to take him home. I went
with him to the fish market, and then went to Mary Hutton's after he was
put to bed. Drayer did not know me Sunday afternoon. He complained of his head hurting back of his ear. The blows Buchheit struck landed on his eyes. I waited till his eyes got better
then I went to Hammondsville. I only
saw one man strike John.

"John said he did not know who
struck him. I had seen Buchheit lots
of times. I could not be mistaken in
the man and am positive that no other
man struck any blows."

Cross-examined Miss Milliron said:
"Tom, John and Mary and I were to gether. Mary and I started out alone.
The tall fellows were ahead of us.
They stopped and talked to us. John
and Tom were behind us. I turned around and came back before going
far. The conversation took place east
of Washington street. When I got back
the tall men were gone. The tall one struck the first blow. He struck with
and blackened his eyes. I was looking
when the blows were struck. The tall
fellows ran after the blows were struck. Tom ran over to the res taurant.

"I saw Boyd pick up a brick, but he did not throw it. He meant to throw
it, but did not. He told me he intend
ed to throw it. The man hit Drayer
with his fists. He had an umbrella in
one hand. It was raised all the time.
Drayer was lying on the ground when I got to him. I raised him up. Drayer
was my fellow. He went with me a
good while."

Mary Hutton testified: "I live on Market street, East Liverpool. I knew Drayer only two weeks. On June 7 I was with Mary Milliron standing in front of a drug store on Second street.
Tom met Drayer with us at the corner
of Union and Second streets. We walk

ed down to Second and Washington.
Two tall fellows were behind us and
Tom and John behind them. John said
to those two men: 'Do those girls owe
you anything?' Then one of the tall
fellows knocked him down. I saw no
blows struck. I went to Second and Market. Mary went where John lay.
There were two tall fellows and a heavy set man. I would not know any
of them. I did not see Tom run."

Dennis Linger's testimony was as follows: "I live at the corner of Sec ond and Washington streets. On the night of June 7 I was at the corner
about 12 o'clock. I saw a man hit an other one twice on Washington street.
I wasn't close enough to see to know
him. I saw a man bent over another
one. That attracted my attention. He fell after the second blow. I did not see him get kicked. The man lay
there after being hit. He was sitting down when hit first. One said: 'Tell
him to get up.'

"I walked over to the man. He was lying then with face down. I saw blood
on his mouth and breast. I don't know
who took him away. I saw a girl
come to him and commence crying."

On cross-examination Linger said:
"The man hit Drayer one very hard
lick. When the blow was struck it
sounded as if he struck with his fist."

Dr. Brindley told of the post mortem. It revealed a depressed frac
ture of the skull. There was an artery
severed. "I found a clot of blood and
two fractures. I discovered no bruises
on his body. Either bruise would have caused the death of the man." The doctor showed a piece of the skull.
Any direct blow would have caused
that. The death was caused by a blow
inflicted on the head.

Dr. Taylor's testimony was given in an interview published in the News Re
view yesterday. He said that death
could have been the result of the skull
coming in contact with the pavement.
The three bones could have been frac
tured by one blow, but that was hard ly probable.

At the conclusion of this evidence
Mayor Davidson said: "There is no
doubt in my mind that the assault
caused the man's death. I therefore feel it my duty to hold the prisoner for
the common pleas court, fixing his
bond at $5,000."

Buchheit was then led back to his cell.

that was most pleasing, presented Mr.

WELLSVILLE

DON'T CROWD, GENTLEMEN

How Mr. Swearingen's Parrot Managed a Crowd of Noisy Birds.

Daniel Swearingen owns a beautiful green parrot that is said to be the largest of the many parrots in town. It is docile and kind and has been given many privileges. Finally it grew independent and took up its habitat in the hills north of Wellsville.

A number of men located "Jack" in a tall tree near town. The parrot was obtained by Mr. Swearingen of a ticket seller at a circus and is a good talker. The men found it surrounded by a bevy of robins, swallows and crows. Jack was making his antagonists a great speech and was saying: "Now don't crowd up, gentlemen. One at a time and you'll all be accommodated. There are tickets for all of you."

When a crowd gave him a savage peck the parrot said: "Get away, you black devil; let the other people come up and be served."

Just then the parrot caught the crow by the neck and gave him a wrench that sent him to the ground.

A futile endeavor was made to capture the bird.

NEW U. P. CHURCH

Wellsville Not Likely to See the Project Carried Out This Year.

The building of a new United Presbyterian church in Wellsville this year is a matter that remains in embryo.

At the meeting next Wednesday evening the trustees will recommend that meetings be held in the old church for another year, as they do not believe that they can dispose of the building and lot advantageously at the present time. They think that the property is worth $10,000 and wish to make a fair bargain.

The trustees want full permission of the congregation to purchase a new lot and develop the plans for the new church. It will cost heavily to repair the old church. It would take 200 to remove the tottering steeple. Lots can be purchased reasonably and the trustees believe in planning for a fine new church next year and want authority to act.

TROUBLE OVER A SEWER

Lisbon Street Residents Say It Is Expensive to Make Connections.

Mrs. Mary Gallagher, of Lisbon street, appeared before a justice of the peace last evening and complained that Contractor Harrison Rinehart insisted on leading a pipe to conduct surface water into a drain from Mrs. Gallagher's property. She said that she had constructed the drain at her own expense and did not wish it to be filled up, as would happen if she permitted its use as a surface drain. She said that the contractor threatened to use the drain without her consent and she wished to protect her property.

The main sewer on Lisbon street is 35 feet from the surface and it is very expensive for the people to connect with it on account of the depth. Lisbon street residents think that a shallow sewer should be constructed. The ordinance for paving that street, they say, was passed without any regard to the wishes or consent of the property owners.

ANOTHER OFFICER

ADDED TO CHESTER POLICE FORCE BY ACT OF COUNCIL.

Ex-Marshall of Irondale the Man. Opening of Third Street—No Action on Paving.

Chester has another policeman. He is John John Elliott. He was chosen by council last night and began work today. He is to be on duty from 2 p. m. to 2 a. m. The appointment is considered a good one. Elliott was formerly marshal of Irondale.

Councilman Johnston, of the street committee, reported that numerous complaints had been made of the condition of Third street from California avenue to Virginia avenue. Its condition was bad and he suggested that Third street be opened to the river front and at the two intersections a sufficient fill be made so that the present drainage difficulty could be overcome.

After some discussion Mr. Johnston moved that the city engineer be instructed to furnish a grade continuing Third street to the river. The motion was carried.

No action could be taken on the paving ordinance, as City Solicitor Oliver Marshall was not present and no ordinance had been prepared. It will be acted upon at the next meeting.

Councilman Riley's motion, that the engineer be instructed to establish a grade on Indiana avenue between First and Second streets, as several people wished to build there, was carried.

civilization is confronted with four great aids. They are religion, home, virtue and work. For all these we must fight. One of the greatest helps toward the American people conquering in all lies in the fact that they are not afraid to acknowledge the greatness and goodness of God at all times. Our president never forgets to attach the name of God to his official messages and thereby evidences the respect of the nation as a whole for the Supreme Being.

For fully two hours the speaker held the audience to the closest attention and described the work of the army in all its phases. He dwelt chiefly on the farm colony scheme and explained in a convincing manner the good that is being derived from it.

At the conclusion of his most interesting talk a collection was taken from the audience to help in the erection of the new edifice to be built in this city by the army. Over $700 was subscribed and this, with what Adjutant Snyder has already raised, makes the total over $2,000.

A reception to the commander at the home of Col. John N. Taylor followed the meeting.

YATES--GEORGE

A HANDSOME WEDDING AT A THIRD STREET HOME.

Impressive Ceremony Performed By Rev. Chas. G. Jordan Yesterday Noon.

The wedding of John N. George and Miss Carrie Yates, which took place at the bride's home on Third street yesterday, in the presence of relatives and friends, was a very fine affair. The house was prettily decorated in palms and pink roses, and in one corner of the parlor was arranged an artistic bower of tropical plants and vines.

Promptly at 12 o'clock, to the music of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Elizabeth Crawford, the wedding party appeared, preceded by Rev. C. G. Jordan, who performed the ceremony, using the Episcopal ring service. Little Miss Marion George, a sister of the groom, acted as flower girl while her brother, Master Allen George, acted as ring bearer. The flower girl's dress was of Persian lawn trimmed with valenciennes lace and ribbon. She carried a basket of pink roses. Master George wore a white suit and carried the wedding ring upon a silver tray.

Following these two little people were the bride and groom unattended. In the bower at the end of the room the ceremony was performed.

The bride's gown was a pretty creation of white chiffon mulle, en traine, trimmed with white satin ribbon. She carried a handsome bouquet of La France roses.

A delightful wedding breakfast was served. As the guests entered the dining room the bride presented each lady with a rose from her bouquet. The dining room was prettily decorated.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful presents, among those to the bride being a handsome diamond brooch set with pearls, a gift from the groom.

The bride is well known to a large circle of friends, having been a stenographer in the Laughlin No. 2 pottery, while the groom is a popular civil engineer of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. George left last evening for Cleveland, Buffalo and Niagara Falls for two weeks. They expect to occupy their new home on Thompson hill early in July.

Mount Union Faculty Withholds Leetonia Boy's Diploma for Printing Caricature.

Alliance, June 20.—The commencement exercises of Mount Union College closed yesterday in a whirl of sensations. When President A. B. Riker announced the degression of the name of Vernon C. Snyder, of Leetonia, was omitted. Snyder was editor of the Union, the college annual. At a meeting of the faculty it was decided to withhold young Snyder's diploma, because, it is charged, he insisted on printing a burlesque on one of the college professors. The picture represented the professor with his arm around one of the girl students. Snyder threatens to appeal to the courts. Another sensational feature was the reported action of some of the trustees to oust President Riker on the alleged grounds of inciting the enmity of the students.

THE SUPREME COURT

Declares Prosecutor Brookes, Is the Proper Tribunal to Decide Brookman Case.

Prosecutor Brookes states that he has every reason to believe that the court at Lisbon will honor the bill of exceptions filed by him in the case of Ohio vs. D. S. Brookman.

"It was not my intention when making the motion for the leave to file the bill of exceptions to further try Manager Brookman," stated Mr. Brookes this morning. "It is a criminal case and no decision has ever been handed down by the supreme court in a like case, and as Judge Hole declared the law unconstitutional, I want the decision of the supreme court."

Chronic Diarrhoea.

This disease is generally regarded as incurable, mainly for the reason that the remedies usually employed are ineffectual. That it can be cured, however, has been fully proven in many cases. The following tells of one of them: Mr. T. W. Greathouse, of Prattsburgh, Ga., says: "I had been suffering from chronic diarrhoea for seven years. Last year I began taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and it has entirely cured me. I had spent lots of money for doctors' medicine in the run of of the seven years. If it had not been for this remedy I would have been dead now, and I feel that I can never say too much in its favor or recommend it too highly." Sold by Alvin H. Bulger, Druggist.

PITCHERS' BATTLE MOST INTERESTING

Sharon Lost the Game, Though East Liverpool Had Not Its Strongest Line-up.

GREAT TWIRLING WAS DONE

Visitors Made But Three Runs. All in One Inning—Locals Ran the Score Up to Seven And Then Stopped. Features of the Games.

The Sharon base ball team lost the first game of the series in West End park yesterday by a score of 7 to 3. The game was very interesting throughout and not a person was seen applying to the gatekeeper for his money back.

Judging from the strike outs credited to each pitcher, one would think that it was surely a pitchers' battle. In one sense it was and the work done by each was highly commendable. Hyland, for the visitors, allowed the locals to make quite a number of hits, but it was not his fault. He tried hard to place them just a little below the bat each time, and certainly cannot be blamed because Fred Heckathorn realized his intention at least five times and belted the ball out to the swamps. However, his work was all that could be desired. It was very seldom that a twirler is credited with 11 strike outs.

By losing the first game it is almost assured that Sharon will be compelled to return to the smoky regions without gaining a single victory, the fans say. They should have taken advantage of the local lineup. It was probably weaker than it has been for weeks. In the remaining two games the Sharon boys will meet the best the city can afford. Harker will be back from Betnany, where he went to help the Phoenix out, and several other changes will be made.

In the first inning the locals made a good start, scoring two runs, but were unable to keep the pace until the fifth, when they added two more to the list. At the end of the seventh they had seven and then took a back seat. It was not necessary to make any more, and they retained their latent energy. The visitors made their total number in the fifth and it looked for a few minutes as if they might be the victors, but their last struggle was over. They never rallied again, and only tried to keep their opponents score as low as possible.

Tommy Boyle, formerly with the Winter A. C., of Pittsburg, played at short for the locals and again demonstrated his ability as a true blue ball player. Short is not his regular position, but he did not forget how to handle the balls at that.

Fred Heckathorn not only played all around first base, but handled the stick with a record-breaking skill. Only at the bat five times and then getting five hits is a great record.

In the box Patterson proved himself at home as usual. He was steady at all times and held the visitors under excellent control.

But one man of the visiting aggregation acquitted himself in a manner deserving comment. He was the third baseman, Yoho. In that position he is all right and will some day be among the leaguers if he continues at the same speed that he played yesterday.

Wintering in Colorado And Utah.
The climate of Colorado and Utah has long been world famous, but it is only within recent years that attention has been given to the delightful winter climate of these states. Today physicians all over the United States send their patients to Colorado and Utah to escape the rigors of eastern winters and to benefit by her invigorating atmosphere and health-giving sunshine.

It is not necessary to add an elaborate argument—the conclusion is self-evident and inevitable. The winter climate of Colorado and Utah on the whole presents advantages for the invalid and the pleasure-seeker that cannot fail to command attention.

An erroneous impression prevails that because the Rocky mountains have a high elevation the mercury in the thermometer drops down below zero in the winter season and stops there, and that the snow mounts up with the altitude. The fact is that the average precipitation of moisture in the lowlands of the mountain region during the entire year is only 14.15 inches. With such average precipitation there is practically no danger of snow blockades on the railroads, save at a few points exposed to drifts and these points have been amply protected. This is especially true of the lines of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western between Denver and Ogden at all seasons of the year. Facts speak for themselves, and the fact is that travel over "The Scenic Line of the World" has gone on with less interruption from snow blockades during the last ten winters than it has upon the majority of railroads in other localities which are popularly supposed to be more free from such delays than the mountain systems. Sale of Boy's Suits!

BOY'S $5.00 AND $6.00 SUITS $3.50

TOO early to remind you of Fall and Winter clothing, yet in a few weeks we go East to place our Orders for these heavier goods, and, to be frank, we would like to make a considerable reduction in our Boy's Cloth Suit stock before placing orders for the following season. And so—we have gathered together all these suits that have just arrived—$5 and $6 Spring and Summer weights and designs. Fancy made suits, such as the Blouse style, the 3-piece style and the Vestee styles for the little chaps, and the more manly double breasted style for the bigger boys, and offer them all at the one price for choice. They are made of the purest of pure woollens, by the best producers in the land. It's a golden opportunity not alone to buy a suit, but to lay in a supply.

Base Ball or Bat With Every Suit.

Men's Swell Summer Clothes!

Fashion dictates that for the summer of 1902 you must have a fancy flannel coat and trousers, or a skeleton homespun or tweed suit, and what fashion demands we supply. The colors and shades are shown in greater variety this season than ever. The patterns are almost invisible checks and stripes. The coats are made with patch pockets and are more accurately fitted than summer clothing has been heretofore. The trousers are made with belt straps and large turn-ups at the bottom. Then too, we are showing a great variety of plain blue serge coats and vests, and light summer weight coats and trousers of every description.
